BRITISH OFFICIAL REPORTED MURDERED

Message From Athens to London Declares Moslems Have Carried Off All Girls From American College—Property Loss Millions.

(Associated Press.)

Massacres of far reaching proportions are reported to have occurred at Smyrna, attending the terrible conflagration which has just burned the city.

The first reports came from Greek sources and estimated the victims as high as 1,000 to 2,000. Later reports from British eye-witnesses and from Americans arriving at Greek ports tended to confirm the massacres and gave harrowing accounts of the extent of the devastation wrought.

An English agency dispatch declared the British admiral had warned the Turks at Smyrna that if the massacres continued the Turkish quarter would be bombarded.

A correspondent of Reuter's arriving at Malta said hundreds of bodies of the victims were lying in the streets of Smyrna when he left and the pillaging and massacreing were continuing. The Greeks were not blameless, he declared, as they had aroused the Turks by setting fire to villages during the retreat of the Greek army.

The invasion of the British consulate at Smyrna by the Turks and the murder of an official there also were reported.

A Greek semi-official dispatch from Athens quoted an American investigator as estimating the number of victims up to the time of the fire in Smyrna at 1,000. The property loss from the conflagration is estimated in the Greek quarters at $75,000,000.

Meanwhile the various European chancelleries are considering measures to deal with the political developments of the Turkish victory, including the calling of a peace conference to settle the near eastern question. It seems probable the Turks will be given a joint allied

ONE WAR VETERAN HANGS ANOTHER

Minister-Sheriff, Decorated for Bravery, Springs Hangman's Death Trap.

(Associated Press)

FORT MADISON, Ia., Sept. 15.—Eugene Weeks was hanged at 12 noon.

(International News Service.)

FORT MADISON, Iowa., Sept. 15.—A veteran of the world war will stand on the scaffold at noon today and will be sent into eternity by another veteran of the same war—a minister — decorated for bravery on the battlefield.

Eugene Weeks is the condemned man, convicted of the murder of George Fosdick, Des Moines grocer.

The hangman is the Rev. W. F. Robb, sheriff of Polk county, and he will be the first American clergyman to spring a death trap and carry out the mandate of the law as an executioner.

Weeks was keeping his nerve today as he sat in his cell and watched the hours pass, waiting for the call to begin the march to the scaffold. Yesterday a reconciliation between the condemned man and his wife took place. He had not seen her since the trail, when she appeared against him and later tried to collect the $2,500 reward for his conviction.

"I have forgiven her," Weeks said today as he prepared to die.

Fatal Shooting Of a U. S. Deputy at San Bernardino

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 15.—United States Marshal Al Sittell today ordered a thorough investigation into the reported shooting to death of Deputy United States Marshal W. H. Middaugh at Barstow, shortly after midnight this morning by a man said to be a special officer, Thompson, a Santa Fe guard.

According to meager information of the shooting reaching Los Angeles Thompson and Deputy United States Marshal Forbes went to the Harvey eating house at Barstow to see Middaugh, who is understood to have been the cause of some disturbance. When the officers asked Middaugh to accompany them he is said to have drawn his gun and pointed it at Thompson, who whipped out a pistol and fired, killing Middaugh immediately.

The shooting of Middaugh is the second shooting this week in San Bernardino county as the result of the rail strike.

DOUBTFUL ABOUT SCOPE OF PEACE

Rail Settlement May Not Be As Effective As At First Believed.

New York Central Signs New Agreement With Conductors and Trainmen.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Refusal by a number of the country's biggest railway systems to enter into the Warfield-Willard-Jewell plan for ending the shopmen's strike on the basis of separate and individual agreements, developed an element of considerable uncertainty today over the scope and effectiveness of the peace program.

While some of the larger systems had flately rejected the plan, others, however, notably the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul had virtually completed arrangements for restoring strikers to their former jobs.

Negotiations were in progress with several roads in an effort by shop craft system federation officials to effect additional settlements.

No obstruction will be placed in the way of shopmen returning to work on the railroads parties to the settlement plan as fast as those roads and their system federation chairmen arrange for resumption, B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, said today in denying statements by Fred W. Rausch, union leader at Topeka, Kansas, Rausch and last night a letter signed by Mr. Jewell directed that no man would return to work until all the roads had signed the agreement.

Reach An Agreement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The entire New York Central railroad system today signed an agreement with its conductors and trainmen covering conditions, wagse and rules for one year beginning September 30. The signing of the agreement was announced after a conference between A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and L. E. Shepard, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad conductors.

A statement issued by the New York Central said that the direct settlement agreement would provide for the immediate withdrawal of all controversy on matters now pending before the United States labor board.

TALK OF WIELDING POLITICAL STICK

State Officials May Succumb to Pressure and Purchase Whitney Bonds.

Three state officials who have heretofore been holding out against the purchase of $300,000 of irrigation bonds issued by the Whitney district of northwestern Nebraska may succumb to political pressure and agree to purchase some of these bonds. Attorney General Davis, Land Commissioner Swanson, and Public Works Secretary Johnson, who is also state engineer, will meet at Crawford and look over the district before deciding what to do.

Davis has been absent from his office for the past three weeks, and during a part of that time has been traveling through several Rocky Mountain states. He is understood to be a prospective candidate for United States senator two years hence.

During May, June and the early part of July, the attorney general was out making his primary campaign for senator and paid little attention to the work of the state legal department. Since then, he has been looking after his banking interests at Beaver City and elsewhere, and has not been in his office, on an average, more than one or two days a week.

Land Commissioner Swanson, who is a candidate for re-election, has been opposed to purchasing the Whitney irrigation bonds up to this time, on the ground that the project does not have a sufficient supply of water to insure its success. Besides inspecting the Whitney irrigation works, he will look into some school land leases in Dawes and Sheridan counties before returning to Lincoln.

Lad's Quick Wit Saves Him From a Kidnapping Gang

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 15.—Little Billy Bowes, 5-year-old son of Claire Windsor, film luminary, today owes his safety to his own quick thinking by fustrating what is believed to have been a plot to kidnap him, occording to a report made to the police today by his mother.

According to the story as told in the police report by Mrs. Windsor, three men came to the home of her mother, Mrs. G. C. Cronk in Third avenue, and asked Billy to take a ride with them. The lad being suspicious of the men, because of their dirty appearance, told them to wait until he got his hat and that he would go with them.

He then ran to his grandmother.

CALVER RETURNED TO PENITENTIARY

Man Who Escaped from Reformatory Captured By Shelton Marshal.

A descriptive card bearing his photograph, was the undoing of James Calver, reformatory fugitive who escaped about two weeks ago. Calver was arrested Thursday morning, in a soft drink parlor at Shelton, Neb., by the town marshal who recognized him from the likeness of the circular. Calver was brought back to Lincoln Friday morning and is now in the state penitentiary.

The arrest of Calver was made less than an hour and a half after Marshal E. L. Colby of Shelton received the postcard bearing Calver's likeness, and his description. Colby entered the soft drink parlor and noticed a stranger sitting there who resembled the likeness on the card. He hurried back for the card and compared the picture with the appearance of the stranger. After such comparisons, he felt pretty certain that it was Calver, and placed the stranger under arrest.

Calver was sent up from Lancaster county, and was serving a term of one to ten years for auto theft, according to Supt. Miller. Marshal Colby will receive a reward of $50 for the capture of Calver.

BLOOD POISONING FATAL TO YOUTH

Breaking of Arm Last Sunday Results In Death of James Roy.

James Roy, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Roy, 1920 Ryons street, died at 3 a. m., Friday at a local hospital from blood poison, which developed from a broken left arm, received last Sunday when he failed to catch hold of a horizontal bar, on which he was performing gymnastic stunts.

The boy was jumping from bar to bar and failed to catch one of them with his hands, falling to the ground with the result stated. Blood poisoning developed soon after and all efforts of physicians failed to save him.

He was attended by Dr. J. M. Birkner. The body is being held at Castle, Roper and Matthews' chapel pending the funeral.

Father Looking for Daughter to Ease a Heartbroken Mother

J. H. Johnson of Broken Bow, Neb., has written a letter to the Lincoln Star about his missing daughter, Gertrude. Mr. Johnson says that he is very anxious to locate the girl as her mother is in a serious condition, and unless the daughter come home soon she may never see her mother again. He requests the daughter to send her address and he promises to supply the transportation home.

REAL WORK DONE BY BOB M'GINNIS IN A ROUNDHOUSE

General Agent of Northwestern Performs As Laborer.

Cultivates Calouses As Well As Good Coat of Tan.

Society Note—Robert W. McGinnis general agent for the Northwestern railroad in Lincoln, has returned from a two months' vacation spent in the company's roundhouse at Council Bluffs. Many of the road's officials gathered there and devoted themselves to the pastimes provided for guests of the resort. Mr. McGinnis acquired not only a good coat of tan, but also some callouses on his hands.

"You may say for me that I'm glad the strike is settled on the Northwestern railroad," announced Mr. McGinnis to his Lincoln friends Friday morning.

"I spent seventy days in the Council Bluffs roundhouse, doing all sorts of work on engines, and I'm ready to lay off of that for awhile and let the regular men look after things. I'm ten pounds lighter than I was, but my muscles are lots tougher and altogether I guess I stood the gaff pretty well.

Began on July 2.

"I was called into the first line trenches on a Sunday, July 2. As I had done strike duty once before handling switch engines in Chicago a couple of years ago, I was assigned to duty as a boilermaker's helper in the roundhouse over at the Bluffs.

"Most of the regular force of 150 men had quit work when I got there. The rest of them, all but three men—the general foreman, the roundhouse foreman, and the head boilermaker—went out the next morning, which left this trio and myself as the only ones on duty.

"All day Sunday I climbed into engine fireboxes, fixing loose and burned-out grates, caulking the flues, and making general small repairs on the boilers. After going to bed in the roundhouse Sunday evening, I was called out at 1 a. m. to do some more caulkin and other gwork on more caulking and other work on immediate service.

"Herding" the Engines.

"Then I was given the job as engine herder, getting locomotives ready for their trips. My business was to fire up all engines as they were needed, keep water in the boilers and shovel in coal to keep up steam. I had nine or ten to watch at a time.

"After several days of this I began to get some help. The company had been able to hire a few men, but they were inexperienced. I had one man to prepare kindling and fill the boilers with water; another to coal the grates, and get steam up to fill the lubricators and grease to 100 pounds pressure; and a third plugs.

"The help kept coming and going, and, of course, I had the pleasant job of breaking in new men all the time. One morning there was nobody to fire up, and I got a couple of Greeks who were working with a gang in the cinder pit near by. I showed them how to do the work and they stayed by me that day, but next morning they didn't show up. I found them back in the cinder pit, and when I asked what was the matter they replied: 'We didn't hire out to the railroad company to be engineers; we took jobs to work in the cinder pit.' And there they stayed.

Attended to Oil Burners.

"I was the only man around who knew enough about oil-burning engines to the type we use west of the Missouri river to fire them up, and so I drew that job in addition to my other duties.

"In August we began to get some good, experienced workmen, mainly from the east. A number of them came from the Pennsylvania, the

GREAT MENACE TO U. S. PROSPERITY

Editor Says Attitude of Groups Toward Railway Development Dangerous.

(Associated Press.)

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 15.—One of the greatest present menaces to the prosperity of the United States, is the unwillingness of large groups of people "to acept any results of government regulation which are not directly adverse to the development of the railways" declared Samuel O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age, in an address before the Des Moines chamber of commerce today.

"The shopmen's strike must forever settle the question whether nation-wide strikes on our railroads are possible or even probable," Mr. Dunn said. "But if the public which says railway rates is going to refuse to accept the results of [illegible] of railway valuation' and rates except when they are adverse to the interests of the railways, how can the public expect the railway employes to accept the results of regulation of their wages when the results are not adverse to the railways."

Man and Wife Are Accepted On Same Jury

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15.—A man and wife were accepted for service on the same jury in a common pleas court here yesterday. They are Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Hubbard, who are sitting in the case of Jane Ross, a house maid, charged with grand larceny.

Hubbard had been tentatively seated when his wife was summoned for the venire.

"If your husband's opinion as to the evidence differs from our's wound that tend to shake your convictions?" Mrs. Hubbard was asked.

"No more than anyone else's" she replied.

"If he or anyone else could show me where I was wrong, I'd change my mind. Otherwise not." She was then accepted.

TOWNSEND GIVES INTERESTING TALK

New York Man Addresses Kiwanians on Alliance of Literature and Music.

S. Dana Townsend of New York City gave an interesting talk before the Kiwanis club at the Chamber of Commerce Friday noon. He was introduced by Dean Charles A. Fordyce as an artist in both literature and music and talked on the alliance of literature and music. A phonograph was used to play selections to which he referred.

Mr. Townsend first read the poem, told of the train of thought it inspired in the composer and noted the musical setting used for the various types. A shakespearean poem, one from Milton, a love song and a Kipling narrative poem were examples used.

Efforts of the Kiwanians are now centered on making their annual picnic next Wednesday afternoon and evening a big success. Will Beachley, general chairman, spoke briefly. The Camp Fire Girls of the city will be entertained at this affair and free dinner, prizes, dancing and a program of stunts and sport events have been arranged.

Henry Westfall reported on the district Kiwanis convention recently held in Sioux City, to which he and C. W. Watson were delegates. He said emphasis was laid on the club's program of aid to the underprivileged child, and to inter-city activites. The next convention will be held in Lincoln in October, 1923.

The usual prize for attendance went to Dr. M. E. Vance, Dean E. A. Burnett of the college of agriculture being the donor. It was a huge sack of corn. Dean Burnett listed the items of cost going into raising one bushel of corn, which totaled 86 cents, and then gave the present market price of corn at Cheney, Neb., as 45 cents.

Announcement was made of the appointment of a local committee to work out the Kiwanis club's program for the underprivileged. It consists of W. S. Yates, chairman, R. M. Joyce, vice chairman, Judge A. M. Morrissey, Dr. Roscoe Smtih, Dr. J. Stanley Welch, Chief of Police Peter Johnstone, Dr. H. W. Orr and Superintendent of school M. C. Lefler.

John Buettgenbach Hunting Daughter Who Left in July

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 15.—Dying at his home in Lincoln, Neb., John Buettgenbach has asked Sioux City police to locate his 17-year-old daughter, Ida, who ran away from home July 20, and is believed to be in Sioux City.

John Buettgenbach lives at 815 K street. Mr. Buettgenbach is employed by the Globe Transfer company. He is to be operated on Saturday morning, because of an injury received while at work some time ago.

Mrs. Buettgenbach said that their daughter Ida who had been employed at the Payne Glove company, Ninth and O streets, has been missing since July 20. She left with another girl. Mrs. Buettgenbach said that several days ago they received word that their daughter was in Sioux City.

Nimrods Ready For Opening of The Duck Season

Lincoln nimrods were busy Friday hauling rusty guns from their cases and oiling them, in preparation for the duck season which opens Saturday at sunrise. According to reports, a record number of hunting licenses have been sold this year in Lancaster county. Ducks are not very plentiful around Lincoln just now, according to sport fans who have been out looking over the different lakes where duck hunting may be enjoyed each year. As usual, the opening of the hunting season will find a large number of hunters on Salt Lake.

SENT TO JAIL.

John J. Stephens, Art Suiter, Joshua L. Sands, and Roscoe Whitaker were sentenced to thirty days in the county jail by Justice W. A. Hawes Friday morning, on a charge of having intoxicating liquor in their possession. The arrest of the quartet was made on the D. L. D. highway between Waverly and Havelock.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH RATE HERE HIGHER THAN IN NEW YORK

Dr. Chapman Says Lincoln Streets More Dangerous Than Those of Gotham.

Automobiles Cause Most Fatalities—Second Largest Number Due to Falls.

That Lincoln streets are more dangerous than the streets of New York City, is the surprising deduction drawn by Dr. Chauncey F. Chapman, head of the city health department, who Friday morning issued a report on accidental deaths in Lincoln, as compared with accidental deaths in New York City. The accidental death rate in Lincoln for the three years 1919, 1920 and 1921 averaged 75.1 per 100,000 population, while in New York City the rate was only 64.3.

Automobiles rank first as the cause of accidental deaths in Lincoln, Dr. Chapman says. In 1919 automobiles killed eight people in Lincoln, in 1920 thirteen and in 1921, eight. Altogether in 1919 there were twenty-eighth accidental deaths in Lincoln, fifty-seven in 1920 and thirty-nine in 1921.

Speeding Main Cause.

Next to automobiles, Dr. Chapman says, come accidental falls, then burn and scalds, railroad accidents, poisoning, electrocution and gunshot wound. The statistics show that automobile speeding and racing is the cause that contributes to the greatest number of accidental deaths.

Another surprising fact is that the average span of life in Lincoln is more than eight years less than that of the entire registration area in the United States. During 1921 the average length of human life in Lincoln was 48.7 years according to Dr. Chapman, while in the registration area, covering 74 per cent of the population of the United States, it was 56.32 years.

"Doing away with some of these unnecessary accidental deaths would do more to lengthen the years of living in Lincoln than any other one accomplishment," Dr. Chapman declared. "It would appear as if the shorter period of life in Lincoln can, to some extent be charged to preventable accidental deaths."

Figures For Three Years.

The following table shows the number of deaths in Lincoln as result of accidents, per 100,000 population:

Deaths	1919	1920	1921
Automobiles	8	13	8

VOLSTEAD ACT DIDN'T DO IT

Wife Says Dry Law Failed to Prevent Eissler From Getting Liquor.

Waited Three Years Before Bringing Suit For a Divorce.

Friday was divorce day in the Lancaster county district court. Two divorces were granted, one suit was dismissed and two new petitions for divorce were filed.

Grace D. Eissler brought suit against Earnest T. Eissler for divorce. They were married at Wilber, April 10, 1915, and have four children. Her petitions states that Eissler has been most constantly under the influence of intoxicating liquors and that at the time the Eighteenth amendment was adopted she seriously contemplated an action of divorce against her husband but believing and hoping that by the passage of the Volstead act procuring and purchasing of liquor would be difficult she did not file such divorce proceedings. "but after three years in which the Volstead act has been in force and effect, this plaintiff has found that the defendant has been able to procure liquor in such sufficient quantities that the defendant has degenerated into a common drunkard." Mrs. Eissler has supported herself and children by washing and by other means of manuel labor, she avers. She asks custody of their children, alimony and child support money.

Lester Thayer was sued for divorce by his wife, Emma. They were married in Hastings, November 9, 1920. Mrs. Thayer states that her husband on several occasions beat, struck and abused her and last christmas when she had guests for dinner he beat her so that her face became badly swollen and discolored. Thayer has not developed any home instincts, but moves about from place to place, his wife declares. And to satisfy his desire to travel she spent $1,200, her life savings, on him, and when her money was gone he left her and hasn't returned and afterward wrote to her that he "was through" with her, the petition recites. Mrs. Thayer asks for restoration of her maiden name of Dodd.

Girl Gets Decree.

May E. Cunningham, 18, was granted a decree of divorce from George Cunningham, and restoration of her maiden name of Johnson. They were married here, June 4, 1921, following a breif courtship, and separated "for good" a year later. Mrs. Cunningham said her husband called her names she had never heard before and beat and abused her because she went to visit her aunt.

Jennie A. Geeting was granted a decree of divorce from Harry B. Geeting. The Geetings were married here almost twenty-five years ago and have two grown daughters. A very substantial property settlement is said to have been made between them. Mrs. Geeting said there had always been domestic troubles in their home, and that for many years their married life had merely consisted of living in the same house together. Mr. and Mrs. Geeting have been separated since in June 1920.

Owen H. Westerfield has dismissed his divorce suit against Mary Alide Westerfield. The petition was filed more than a year and a half ago.

More Stockholders Favor Receivership

Besides the Nebraska Building & Investment Co. and Nebraska Hotel Co. stockholders who petitioned the supreme court several days ago to reopen the receivership suit involving those concerns and approve all acts of Receiver W. E. Barkley, including the sale of hotel properties to E. C. Eppley, several other groups of the stockholders have filed similar motions.

One group is in Otoe county, another in Dodge, Washington and Saunders, another in Pawnee, and one in Beatrice, in addition to a large contingent in Lancaster county. The holdings represented in these applications total $250,000 or more.

STILL AT LARGE

Charles Gleason and Roy Jones, reformatory inmates, who escaped Thursday, were still at large Friday afternoon. Reformatory officials were without any trace as to the whereabouts of the pair.

DEACONS GUILTY

District Court Jury Finds Six Emerald Church Officials Discriminated Against the Use of the English Language.

SORENSON SAYS CASE IS TO BE APPEALED

Defendants Adopted Resolution Early in Year Restricting Use of Church Sunday Mornings For German Services.

The jury in the trial of T. B. Busboom, Chris Priess, Klaus Borchers, John Mumme, H. C. W. Jarmes and Oscar Deinert, trustees and deacons of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church at Emerald, returned a sealed verdict Friday morning at 9 o'clock finding the six church officers guilty of discriminating against the use of the English language.

The case went to the jury Thursday morning shortly after 11 o'clock and a verdict was reached at 10 p. m. The vote of the jury stood eight to four for conviction from the start, it was said. Attorney C. A. Sorensen, of counsel for the six defendants, said a motion for a new trial would be filed, and if overruled the case would be appealed to the Nebraska supreme court. Three days are allowed to file a motion for a new trial and sentence will not be pronounced until after the motion for a new trial is disposed of. The law provides a penalty of a fine of from $25 to $100 or thirty days in jail. The defendants were fined $25 each in justice court and appealed to the district court. The accused were not in the court room when the verdict was read.

Based On Resolution.

Conviction was due to the resolution or motion which was adopted by the church congregation by a vote of twenty-two to four on March 27, last, granting permission to conduct services in the English language Sunday afternoons and evenings, reserving Sunday mornings for German services. All six defendants voted for the resolution.

Ten of the so-called English faction of the church sent a letter to the board of deacons on August 8, stating that services in English would be held the following Sunday morning. The church door was found locked with a new padlock. This was declared to have been merely an incident and not a discrimination upon which the conviction was based, it was declared.

The complaint was signed by Christian A. Becker, leader of those favoring services in the English language. Mr. Jarms, one of the defendants, is postmaster at Emerald.

Nine members of the congregation filed suit Thursday to enjoin the six defendants in the criminal action from locking the church, discriminating against the use of the English language and paying the expenses of the criminal litigation from the funds of the church.

BOARD TO FOLLOW COUNCIL'S WISHES

The board of education has apparently decided to folow the wishes and instructions of the city council once and has taken out a permit to build the disputed sidewalk on the north side of the new Elliott school house, along the south side of N street.

The original objection to the demands of the city that the walk be built, was that a fill there had not had time to settle but when stakes for the sidewalk were set it was shown that no fill would be covered by the walk so the board agreed to proceed.

The sidewalk on the east side of Whittier street is still unlaid, however, and the board apparently will refuse to give in on that question unless the city takes measures to force the building. In this case the city holds the trump card because the new school has been built in a street not yet officially given to the board so the council feels it is in a position to make the board build the disputed walks there.

Rich Girl, Poor Girl

AN ABSORBING SERIAL BY

VIRGINIA TERHUNE VAN DEWATER

(Copyright, 1922, Star Company)

CHAPTER LXX.

By the time Adelaide was ready for sleep she was in a contrite frame of mind with regard to John Carter. As she reviewed his kindness to her, and to hers, she became convinced that she had not been fair to him of late. Yet, if he would not create Richard Hollingshead's suspicions she must seem to avoid the physician.

She had not acknowledged to herself that to remain indifferent to John Carter she must shun him. At heart she was piqued because he had not appeared as eager to talk with her as she was to talk with him. Richard Hollingshead at least had cared nothing about him until his changed manner had compelled her reluctant approval.

Well, she would not distress herself about either man tonight. It was time she was asleep.

Young people may banish disagreeable reflections when they are tired and sleepy. This was the case with Adelaide tonight, and, when slumber came o her, it was heavy and dreamless

She was awakened suddenly by some one knocking at her door. Springing up she switched on the light by her bed and staggered drowsily across the room. Opening the door a crack, she asked who was there. To her surprise her employer answered.

"Addie," he said, his voice tremulous with nervousness, "I am sorry to disturb you, but Miss Johnson cannot quiet my wife and wants you to come down and see what you can do Hannah is suffering, and is in such a state of excitement that even I cannot do anything with her. She seems delirious. I have just telephoned for the doctor."

A Hurry Case.

"I will be right down," Adelaide said. "I am sorry you had to come up for me. If you had rung the bell I would have come at once."

"I didn't think of that," the husband confessed. "I got rattled. I suppose But Hannah is so much worse! Just put on a wrapper, please, and hurry, child! Do not stop to dress."

It was but the work of a minute to put on stockings and slippers and a heavy bathrobe Adelaide did not pause to glance in her mirror. She did not know that with her cheeks flushed from sleep and her long hair hanging in a braid she seemed more like a child than a woman of twenty-two.

Reaching the sick room she went straight to the side of the bed She noted that Richard Hollingshead, also clad in bathrobe and slippers, stood near the door.

Hannah Hollingshead was tossing back and forth, moaning and pushing off the covers that the nurse was trying to keep over her.

"I must go out!" the delirious woman exclaimer. "I must go out"

"Hannah," the husband begged, 'please lie still! You are right here in your own bed at home."

But she paid no heed to him. "I must go to Patty!" she insisted.

Trying to Calm Her.

"Speak to her, Miss Brown," the nurse suggested softly. Here Mrs. Hollingshead," Adelaide said in a clear, steady voice, "this is Addie. What can I do for you?"

"Addie?" the invalid repeated wonderingly. "Addie" Why—what are you doing here away off from home?"

"I am in your home with you," the attendant said.

"In my home?"

"Yes, of course. And I am going to stay here with you."

There was a silence while the patient seemed to be thinking. Then she seized the hand that stroked her forehead and began feeling it with trembling fingers.

"I hoped you were Patty," she said brokenly. "But Patty wears lots of ring. You haven't any rings on."

'No dear—I have not. I am Adelaide, you know."

"Yes." I know. But—Ade—listen," her voice dropping to a sharp whisper. "I have something to tell you."

"Yes, dear."

"Nobody else must know about it—only you and me. I am going away from this place—to find Patty. She is lost in the snow—I am sure she is."

"No dear, she is not," the attendant soothed.

"I tell you she is!" the sick woman exclaimed, struggling to sit up. "You shall not keep me from her—you shall not!"

She struck at the girl, then tugged violently at the bedclothes. Richard stepped forward quickly.

"Mother!" he exclaimed. "Mother—be quiet. This is Dick—don't you know me?"

"You are not Dick!" the patient protested shrilly. "You are all trying to fool me!"

And as the attendant bent again above her the relirious woman struck her violently in the face with her clenched fist.

(To Be Continued.)

FAIR BOARD IS MAKING BUDGET

Members Meet to Determine What Will Be Asked of Legislature.

Look for Favorable Report on 1922 Show Despite Low Attendance.

The board of managers of the state board of agriculture was in session Friday preparing budgets for the coming year and the 1923 State Fair. The board members will also be at work Saturday on the budget. Secretary E. R. Danielson stated Friday morning that a final and complete checking of results of the 1922 fair had not been completed and that the outcome would depend largely upon receipts and disbursements of the next few days.

Representatives of the various livestock and agricultural associations offering premiums for State Fair exhibits met with the board of managers today. What the board will ask of the legislature next winter will be determined at this meeting. The opinion of the officials is that the results of this year's Fair will not be as unfavorable as low attendance indicated.

A definite report on the 1922 Fair and the budgets for next year will probably be available next Monday according to Secretary Danielson.

Convention Frowns On Federal Action In Nebraska Case

Chief W. B. Young, of the state insurance bureau is back from Boston, where he attended the national convention of insurance commissioners held September 5 to 9. He read a paper on "Reciprocal exchanges" before the meeting.

Action was token by the convention, on Mr. Young's initiative, disapproving the action of the federal courts in taking jurisdiction of the Lion Bonding company's affairs from state control after it had bee nadjudged insolvent and gone into a receiver's hands. The association will try to have insurance laws changed so that state departments can exercise full control of failed companies within their respective jurisdictions.

Mr. Young was made chairman of the committee on miscellaneous matters, and is a member of two other important committees.

Will Distribute More Pheasants

Chief Koster of the state game and fish bureau has arranged to get another carload of Chinese ring-necked pheasants from an Illinois game farm, which will be distributed next week along the main line of the Union Pacific railroad west of Grand Island. He was out this week scattering a carload of the birds along the Northwestern from Wisner to Chadron and Harrison.

The pheasants are protected by law all the year round, but they are increasing so rapidly in parts of the state where they were planted some years ago that shooting may be permitted within the next few years.

PROTEST COAL PRICES.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 15.—Forty-four flour mills operating in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and South Dakota, protested the present prices charged by operators and wholesale distributors of coal, in a resolution mailed to Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce today.

Ending of Strike Brings Gladness To Fairbury Folks

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., Sept. 15.—The settlement of the strike among the employes of the Rock Island at Fairbury will prove a great stimulus to business in Fairbury for the reason that this is a railroad town. It has been ten weeks since about 200 shopmen walked out and consequently their pay checks ceased to be put in circulation.

The resumption of work by these 200 men, together with the assurance of fuel, will cause money to loosen up and a healthy business activity will naturally folow. Business men have extended credit to the shopmen whie they have been on a strike and the settlement comes as a great relief to them. A decrease in business was responsible for merchants reducing the number of clerks. These clerks will in some instances be put back to work with the resumption of trade.

During the entire ten weeks the men were out there was no disorder in Fairbury and considering the circumstances a very good feeling prevailed all the time among the strikers, the officers of the Rock Island and the general public. Many of the strikers and officers have lived in Fairbury for many years, own homes here and are neighbors and too much imbued with the true American spirit to engage in lawlessness or ungentlemanly brawls.

Fairbury School Board Arranges For Many Pupils

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., Sept. 15.—The Fairbury school board has arranged to have the pupils in the three first grades, or beginner's rooms in the Fairbury schools, attend school on the half-day plan. The pupils will be divided, one-half attending in the forenoon and the other half in the afternoon. This is done to relieve the congested condition of the grade schools It has been adopted in the Kearney schools this year and was in force in the Fairbury schools in the early '80's and perhaps at other times. The plan is said to be better for the little tots, in any event, as a whole day is too much for them.

The board also arranged for another teacher for the high school. The funds to pay this teacher are provided from tuition paid by non-resident pupils, practically all the increase in the high school attendance coming from non-residents, who pay $108 a year apiece. The total amount of money to be received from non-resident pupils attending the Fairbury schools this year will run over $12,000

Good Health for Good Results

Keep Efficient by Keeping Well

This Letter Will Tell You How

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound again. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she wishes to write asking what it did for me."—Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 53 Dilley St., Cumberland, Md.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Heier has a large family, and works very hard for them. But any woman is willing to work hard and to work long hours if her health is good and she is able to get the results she is working for. As she says, what the Vegetable Compound did for her it will do for other women, and every one should appreciate her offer to answer letters asking about the Vegetable Compound.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood may depend on your health. So try

Woman Is Stricken With Diabetes While Teeth are Extracted

OMAHA, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Delia Slavin, 41, who died at Lord Lister hospital Tuesday night, was in a state of coma for five days preceding her death, caused according to Dr. Bryan Riley by acute diabetes.

Mrs. Slavin went to a local dentists' office Friday, where twelve teeth were extracted. She was administered gas to relieve the pain. While under the influence of gas, she went into a state of coma and was taken to the hospital, never regaining consciousness.

Dr. Riley, the family physician, said that the gas did not necessarily have anything to do with her death, but that it was a coincidence that a diabetic state of coma occurred while she was under the influence of the anaesthetic.

U. S. Marshal Finds Strangest Case In Shopmen's Walkout

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 15.—United States Marshal George A. Stauffer has gone to Leipsic Junction, O., to serve a warrant upon the elder of a church there, who is alleged to have violated a federal court injunction

The elder, a striker, is said to have attacked Mrs. John McJohnston, wife of an employe of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad as she was shaking hands with Rev. George Wise, minister of the church, several days ago.

"We don't want such people as you in this church,' the elder is alleged to have told the woman as he raised his hands above his head and clinched his fists, according to affidavits filed in federal court here.

Mrs McJohnston fainted

"This strangest case of the whole rail shopmen's strike resulted, I am told, when McJohnston came from Fort Wayne, Ind. and took the elder's job at the Junction after the elder had joined the walkout," Mr Stauffer said.

NOVEL DEFENSE IN MURDER CASE

War Veteran, Slayer of Woman, Will Set Up Shell-Shock Plea.

Kills Woman Living With Him as Wife In Mountan Retreat.

(International News Service.)

HUNTINGTON, Pa., Sept. 15.—When Maj Herbert Bryson, Rainbow division veteran, goes to trial here next Monday on a charge of first degree murder, the novel defense of shell-shock will be set up by his counsel it wos indicated today.

Behind the formal charge of murder lodged against him is an unusual combination of clandestine love and tragedy. On his return from war his nerves were shattered and he was supposed to be in the country recuperating. Reassuring but infrequent letters are said to have been sent to his family that he was on the road to health.

But hidden away in the mountains twenty miles from the nearest railroad station was a little cottage in which Bryson and Helen Irene Haines formerly of Washington, D. C. lived unmolested, unknown and unobserved

They were supposed to be man and wife and the few scattering neighbors in that isolated region asked no curious questions. They took the couple at face value For a year or so this ideal life went on. Something, which has not yet been revealed, apparently came into this mountain abode to disturb the simple life of Bryson and the Haines woman. On the evening of April 8, last, Bryson telephoned to Myron McClain, a neighbor, declaring his wife had shot herself. McClain, an undertaker, rushed the woman to a Huntingdon hospital in a hearse. Bryson rode beside the woman. At the hospital he told attendants his wife had shot herself.

Shortly afterward, as the woman lay dying, she sent for the district attorney and in the presence of witnesses told how she and Bryson had quarreled, how he had persuaded her to go to the second floor of their home, how he had broken down the door of the room in which she had taken refuge, and then how he had fired a revolver point blank at her

She then died.

The next day Bruce Haines of Washington, revealed to the authorities that the "Mrs Bryson" was his wife and that she had met Bryson when working in a government bureau and had deserted her home for the war veteran.

A coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Mrs Haines' death was due to "a bullet fired by Maj. Bryson."

PREDICTS MINERS ARE STILL ALIVE

Chemical Expert Says Men Entombed In Argonant Are Living.

(Associated Press.)

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 15.—Dr. L. H. Duschak, consulting chemical engineer of the California industrial accident commission today issued a signed statement in which he predicted that the forty-seven miners entombed for eighteen days in the Argonaut mine would be found alive.

"There is ground for assuming that the men underground were not overcome by the piosonous gases from the fire zone and that these gases are not now passing through the parts of the mine in which the men sought refuge."

Wait for News.

(International News Service.)

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 15.—Jackson settled down today for another tedious wait, for news from its forty-seven men entombed in the Argonaut gold mine. Hope that some unexpected freak of nature would provide a means for an early rescue have faded Only the incessant driving against hardest rock will open a pathway to rescue.

It appeared certain today the honor of first opening up the pathway which may mean life to many if not all of the entrapped miners, will go to the Argonaut crew of muckers and drillers working on the 3,900 foot drift of the Kenedy mine.

They were expected to reach rock face tonight—a 78-foot barrier. On the basis of the past record these men have made in battling to unseal the subterranean crypt of their fellow workmen, it was estimated they might cut this wall in forty-eight hours. This would open a pathway to the entombed men by Sunday.

"Various American establishments" were among the premises damaged by the mob in Constantinople Sunday according to a dispatch to the Daily Express

CHAPTER 748.

For a minute after I'd made my attempt to pin Dad Lee down with a question he couldn't evade, he sat huddled into a pathetic bundle in his chair. He fumbled with his hands, rubbing them together with a dry rasp that set my teeth on edge. He looked absolutely pathetic. An idea came to me and I put it quickly, and the more mercilessly because for Jim's sake I dared not risk feeling too much of pity for this strange man.

"You were hurt at my suggestion that I don't love you as Dick West does," I flung at him. "Why should I? If you were to stand by me and mine as you've stood by him all along, perhaps I'd begin to care for you. You've clearly shown that your devotion and loyalty are his. That's why he loves you—because you've earned it. Suppose you earned my faith"—

I left it there—in the air as it were, waiting to see if he'd reach up and seize upon it. What he did astonished me. He shambled to his feet and stood balancing weakly as if he were clutching at the shreds of a dignity he'd almost forgotten.

"Are you asking me to—double-cross them what has trusted me—from the first?" he demanded at last.

I laughed with intent to impress. But it wasn't all theatricals, for talk of faith between any human being and Dick West, thief, setter of fires and potential murderer—is absurd. But at my laugh Dad Lee flung around upon me and fairly snarled:

"Quit that! Dick never had any hunch where I was concerned excepting to do his best by me. He'd let me in on any good thing he had."

"And I was a potentional 'good thing.'" I suggested suavely, going on quickly to add: "I am not that no, I'm wise. I see just how much you and Dick counted on what you can never realize."

Dad Lee drew himself up and met me bluff for bluff as he asked pompously:

"You're a smart girl, m'dear. But ain't you tired o' playing a lone hand?"

"Meaning?" I demanded, with the conviction that I wasn't going to like what followed.

Dad Lee's manner was suddenly very protective. I had an idea that he had saved a high trump till last and that he was going to play it now and with all the finesse at his command.

"What's he doing away from a so long?" he asked gently.

"Are you—shortening his stay?" I asked smoothly.

"Whats he doing away from a pretty filly like you?" continued Dad Lee severely. "Don't he know enough to watch his affairs and at the same time be close enough to the likeliest thing he owns to protect her when she needs it most?"

"Don't you think I'm able to take care of myself? Have you ever been able to get the mest of me?" I asked, conquering my distaste at being labelled a possession—even of Jim's.

"No, but you need a man to stand by," he said, screwing his eyes tighter, and fixing them gimlet-wise on my face. "If you didn't would you be trailing along with that Lacy chap. You're one of those fillies, m'dear, that need a groom—He! He! I guess I made a joke just when I was trying to do my best by you and kinda steer you back to the home pasture. I'm fond o' you, m'dear, tho' mavericks dont belong in your life. Then, as if he'd blundered, Dad Lee rushed on: "So again I ask you—like a father would—why don't your own man come home and look after you—if he's planning to do it ever—again?"

"Jim will be back when you least expect him," I laughed to hide a creeping sense of uneasiness and wondering who was the "maverick" of Dad Lee's warning.

"I never expected him lessn' right now," sighed Dad Lee.

"Which doesn't get what you might call a rise out of me,' I chirruped. "And now lets talk about Dick. Has he—gone after Jim?"

Dad Lee stared at me intently, as if he were trying to read my mind and at the same time to keep me from glimpsing his.

"Has he gone after Jim?" I repeated insistently.

"He's—on a journey,', Dad Lee conceded at last.

"Then why did you pretend you were going to bring him today? Why always pretend? Dont you see there's nothing for us to build on—nothing but a fabric of lies? Tell me, I worked myself up to a sort of frenzy as I made my demand, "tell me—are you ever going to manage this meeting, between Dick and me—manage it, I mean, before its too late?"

"To late?" stammered Dad Lee. "It'll never be too late as long as you got me to protect your interests. I do protect them. That's straight. I think of you more'n you give the old man credit for. Seems to me—one way o' looking a it—I'm starvin' and going to the poorhouse for you. You'll never know what I been through."

He snivelled, and I found myself divided between disgust and a strange pitying for the unlovely old age of him. With Dick away, I realized that he had no real friends in the city—no one to love him except the undaughterly daughter with whom he could never come to terms other than these quarrelling, suspicious business ones.

"Did Dick leave you provided for" I asked.

Dad Lee started. Then he snivelled again.

"I ain't got much," he confessed. "I could do with a bit of change. I don't get much to eat."

I fumbled in my purse and took out two ten-dollar bills.

"If I give you this much every week until Dick comes back, or your funds arrive, will you swear by my mothers' memory to spend it only on yourself, on food, to keep yourself in better condition than you are today—swear that you'll not use it against Jim?" I asked earnestly.

Dad Lee burst into tears.

"I swear by your mother's memory—and by all I love best," he said at last, and there was something of dignity in his tone.

"I believe you," I said, quietly.

"Bless you, Anne," replied Dad Lee. "I'm pleased to see you doing so fine."

He took the money and slunk toward the door. At the threshold he urned and came back toward me.

"A beggars one thing I ain't never been yet," he said strangely. "I got to give something—for something. That Lacy—he hounds me. What's he to you, m'dear?"

The words were jerked from him. There was something in his eyes such as you see in the eyes of a faithful dog.

"He's a friend," I replied simply. "A wonderful friend. Loyal and kind. Tha's all."

"And serving your husband as well as you," sneered Dad Lee. "Youd better be careful, m'dear. That Rosa has a sharp tongue and a black heart. Pancho says"—

But suddenly he broke off with a hoarse cackle, crying out.

"That's enough to hold you for today, ain't it? I'll say that's twenty dollars worth!"

(To Be Continued.)

Nature Loves Bright Colors

We see the truth of this statement in the varicolored flowers, the vivid sunsets, the birds of brilliant plumage. But we never see it exemplified more attractively than in the person of a splendidly healthy woman. How does nature paint this health? Why, in the rosy cheeks, the transparent skin, the smooth red lips of such a woman. And she molds it in firm flesh and rounded contours. The ailing woman is deficient in natural coloring, and she does not even appear to advantage in clothes that would set off her more attractive sister. Many women who long for glowing health will find that they too, can have these charms if they will give a trial to that remedy which brings strength to frail women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Advertisement.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Advertisement.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Advertisement.

OMINOUS NEWS FROM EUROPE.

Two news dispatches from Europe within the last two days may well arouse uneasiness among thoughtful people in America, prophetic as they are of further trouble in the Balkans. One is from Clemenceau, the Tiger, and the other from a member of the British parliament, Lieut. Commander J. M. Kenworthy.

Under a Paris date, the Associated Press quotes Clemenceau as follows:

"Clemenceau believes that a closer union of America and the allies and absolute co-operation between Greece and Great Britain are necessary to avoid a general conflict, with inevitable widespread ruin. He has sent a message to the London Times to that effect."

The Kenworthy utterance is given as follows:

"The European situation is fully as serious as it was in 1914, declared Lieut. Commander J. M. Kenworthy, a member of parliament today. 'If there is a mistake in British policy a world war might easily start. There must be caution'."

Only a little over three years after a conflict which seriously menaced civilization in Europe, America is told that the red flame of another conflict is already seen on the horizon. Still reeling from the exhaustion and ruin of the last war, the nations of Europe are again on the verge of war. The Balkans may flame again to draw Europe into a general conflict.

The situation only serves to emphasize what Sir Phillip Gibbs has been telling readers of The Lincoln Star for some months. Racial and national hatreds have been fanned anew out of the disappointments arising from the failure of the Versailles conference to set up an international court which had the support of all civilized nations of the world. The old spirit of nationalism, most vigorously expressed in the attitude of Greece, has borne fruit in the form of war.

Gibbs has been pleading for a spirit of tolerance and charity. His powerfully stirring messages moved the British empire to intercede with France for a more lenient policy in the reparations matter in order that Germany might have a chance to escape national ruin. Once a warm friend of the French people, there has been no sterner critic of that nation because of its rigid adherence to the initial demands on Germany. He pleaded with the allies to pursue a more enlightened policy with regard to the Russian people and was in a large measure responsible for a better understanding between his country and the Slavic nation. He has repeatedly urged America to take her place among the nations of the world to promote a better understanding.

It may prove that such a course is now too late to prevent another catastrophe.

A STRIKING OBJECT LESSON.

It seems a remarkable state of affairs when members of a church congregation in a community only six miles distant from the seat of Nebraska's state government and the center of its educational system, must seek the aid of the law in securing for themselves the right to conduct services in their own church in the language of the American people.

Could anything illustrate more forcibly than this the need of laws to compel the teaching of the English language, rather than some foreign tongue, in the elementary schools of the state, during the period when the foundation is being laid for life habits of reading, thinking and speaking?

When the majority of elders in such a community insists upon maintaining a distinct racial group, speaking an alien tongue, is it not all the more important that the children, at least, should be protected by the state in their right to become American citizens in fact as well as in name and be taught the history and the traditions of the country from an American viewpoint, in the language which has been used here for over three hundred years?

Shall these children learn English as their mother tongue, and thus become fitted for an intelligent exercise of their duties as citizens, or shall they be taught to speak, write and think in another tongue, while English remains to them, as it is to their parents, an awkward and unfamiliar means of communication, to be used only in dealings with perosns who do not understand the foreign language.

Those of the older generation who are trying to bring their community into closer touch with the United States of America are entitled to the thanks of their fellow citizens, and the state of Nebraska owes to them nothing less than a guarantee that it will safeguard their rights under the laws which have been enacted.

THE POTATO SUPPLY.

There are four bushels of potatoes this year for every man, woman and child in the United States. That is a prospect of plenty, not unmixed with consternation. Most of us don't eat four bushels of the lowly tuber annually and the supply is very evidently going to be greater than the demand.

As a consequence the potato growers face a serious situation. The price of the staple food they raise has gone down steadily until it promises to be ruinous. The public is being asked to help by buying as much of an advance supply as is possible. It ought to work to the profit of both the producer and the consumer. Potatoes are cheap. A winter's supply purchased now will unload an overloaded market and save the situation.

Baked potatoes, fried potatoes, mashed, hashed, creamed, with cheese, onions or prepared in any of the dozens of ways the house wife knows, all go to make up your share of the 436,000,000 bushels of the tubers that were raised this year.

Order your four bushels now.

PLANS AGAINST WATER SHORTAGE.

Commissioner William Schroeder, in charge of the water department of the city of Lincoln, is entitled to congratulations for his prompt action in attempting to avert a repetition of the trouble experienced by the water department durinf August.

Mr. Schroeder has instructed the city engineer to prepare plans for a new reservoir, with a storage capacity of 2,000,000 gallons. This, the city commissioner estimates, will provide a sufficient supply, with the present facilities, to meet any emergency which may arise.

The water problem in Lincoln raises problems of extraordinary difficulty. Commissioner Schroeder has met these difficulties and has succeeded in providing Lincoln with water at a comparatively small cost.

That young man who told the principal of a New York city school that he was late because he had to meet his wife at the station will have to think of some better excuse when he arrives home late at night.

One would have every reason to expect that Kid McCoy, embarking on his ninth mtrimonial venture would have known better than to have left the note from "redhead" in the pocket of his coat where the prospective bride discovered it.

Is Candidate Randall, who has discovered that the code needs some changes the same Senator Randall, who in company with his legislative associates, gave the self-same code a wholesale whitewash during the legisaltive investigation?

Comment by the Press

A SAFE VETO.

President Harding can view the bonus situation calmly and serenely. There is nothing in it to disturb his peace of mind.

The president instinctively dislikes troubles of any any kind. He shrinks from controversy, and a party quarrel is no less distasteful to him than a family quarrel, but the bonus bill need bring him no anxiety. He can veto it in the certainty that he will arouse no animosity whatever among the republicans of the house and senate.

None of them quite knows what it will be when it comes out of the conference committee, and most of them do not care what it is. They have no interest in the bonus as a bonus. They are concerned with it only in its relation to their personal political fortunes. It is safe to say that there is not a single senator or representative among its supporters who would go on record in favor of it if he thought he would lose votes by that course.

The advocates of the bill are thinking only of the record. They have convinced themselves that by supporting the bonus in congress they will get a large percentage of the service men's votes, but the bonus itself is quite another matter.

It has been a matter of common gossip in Washington for months that some of the most zealus advocates of bonus legislation are earnestly desirous that the president should use his veto power. They think it would be hardly less useful to them than their own activities in behalf of the bonus. They would get the votes of the service men who demand a bonus and they would also share in whatever political credit accrued to to the administration as a whole by reason of a presidential veto of the raid on the treasury. It requires a great deal of mental agility to arrive at such a conclusion, but the intellectual processes of a senator or representative are usually peculiar to himself.

Anyway, Mr. Harding can veto the bill without quarreling with his party in congress, and the republican senators and representative who vote to pass it over his veto will do so without any sense of resentment toward the president. It is all part of the game, and from their point of view it looks like a game from which they can profit both ways.

Much legislation has been conceived in cynicism and iniquity, but it may be doubted if anything more flagrantly immoral and corrupt ever came out of congress. One could have respect for the advocates of the bonus if they honesty believed in the bonus. He might deplore their utter disregard of the financial condition of the country and the state of the treasury. He might regret the precedent that they were determined to establish in making American patriotism a cash-register matter; but he could feel that there was much to be forgiven in misguided sincerity.

There is no sincerity whatever about this legislation. Senators and representatives are doing something that they know to be wrong and they are doing it only because they believe that it will be politically beneficial to themselves. They have nothing to fear from a presidential veto, because all they desire is the opportunity to show the service men that they supported the bonus legislation that was approved by the American legion. When that is accomplished the bonus has fulfilled its mission for them.

Mr. Harding is as safe in vetoing the bonus bill as he would be in inviting a congressman to spend the week-end on the Mayflower.—New York World.

DISAGREEING BY AGREEMENT.

Reviewing his married life on the near side of a span of almost half a century, a young-old man said the other day: "We have agreed on most subjects, but when our views failed to meet, we have disagreed by agreement." The range of subjects on which the couple could have disagreed sharply, emphatically and even rancorously, was greatly augmented by the fact that they have been pursuing the same profession. It is easy to surmise that when close and constant contact between the two partners in marriage extends beyond the home and projects itself into the inner office, the opportunities for disagreement that jar the domestic harmony and sap the well-spring of mutual devotion to the drying point are vastly increased.

And yet this couple "disagreed by agreement." Neither attempted to dominate the other. Neither sought to impose his or her will upon the other. Each maintained an unrenounced and untrammeled individuality. When it came to matters of execution within that joint professional life of well-nigh upon forty years, the man, by agreement availed himself of the power of execution. The woman, after stating her dissenting case clearly and strongly—but without the shadow of passion—did her best to make that particular issue in their joint interest as great a success as if she had initiated it.

A huge building in Brooklyn now stands as a memorial to the policy pursued by this devoted couple to "disagree by agreement." One of the pleasant sights of a summer resort a few miles from Brooklyn is a glimpse of that couple, old in years but young in thought and action, taking a stroll on the beach in the sunset hour. They are lover-like in their old age.

Whenever they found occasion to disagree during a span of almost two generations, they disagreed by agreement. There never was any rancor, never any resentment, never an aftermath of coldness in their disagreements—and they were sometimes serious in the degree of divergence between mind and mind.

After almost half a century of married life, they are devoted lovers today—and their children rise to call them blessed—because they never disagreed except by complete, profound and indisputable agreement. Even in their disagreements they were agreed.—Christian Science Monitor.

More Truth than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

The shortest hour that I recall
Was not an hour I spent alone
Beside the fairest girl of all
On whom the sun has ever shone;
It was the hour before the one
In which I was to see hr dad,
And offer to become his son,
And help to make his daughter glad.

Her softly answered little "yes"
Was not the word, I must admit,
That brought me greatest happiness,
Although it cheered me quite a bit;
The word that brought me greatest glee
Was that the pilot spoke when I
Took off my goggles after we
Had done a zigzag from the sky.

The longest hour of all my life
I never shall, I'm sure, forget;
It was not when another's wife
And I lay 'neath a car, upset;
It was nt where great armies clashed,
With shells exploding in the air,
Nor where wild billows madly splashed;
I spent it in ad entist's chair.
I spent it in a dentist's chair.
The loviest girl I've ever seen
Was not upon the flaming page
Of any monthly magazine,
Nor on the screen nor on the stage:
While I held up my hands, one night—
A thing I hated much to do—
She came along and saw my plight,
And yelled "Police!" a time or two.

AS BETWEEIN FRIENDS.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Sept. 15.—To The Editor of The Star: The recent statement of "ESarnings under the Code" does not agree with the report of the auditor in the "expense of the code" by somewhere about $100,000 but what is one hundred thousand dollars between friends?

Another item of a mere $309,644.16 is listed as an earning of the department of public works in "equipment and material fund.. The auditor has this item as "sales of equipment and material." Converting a sale into an earning is a mere incident in some folks lives.

Probably that other little item of $315,321.32 takes on insurance premiums" that appears in the auditor's report by accident or inadvertence transformed into "insurance fees" thus making an item that should read $20,395.75 appear a trifle over $315,000 too high as an "earning." If "taxes on insurance premiums" is to be included as code "earnings" why be modest—why not include tax on real estate and personal property and the railroads and "intangibles" if any can be found?

Barring this $100,000 in the cost of operation and the $625,000 items that erorneously crept into the secretary's report and the fees in the food, drug, oil, game, fish departments and the license fees of automobiles and perhaps some other details Phil's statement is about right. We had these fees before we had a code. In those good days of 1917-18 about two hundred employes did all the work through regular departments. Now we have about the same number and in addition nearly twice as many in the code.

These statements may be easily verified, and the public is entitled to the facts. You can "kid" the people along for awhile but the time comes when it will not "go."

MRS. J. ELLMERS OF ORLEANS, NEB. WINS FIRST PRIZE

Mrs. F. R. Stanley of Lincoln Awarded Second Money For Recipe.

First prize in the tar recipe competition for this week for watermelon pickles was awarded to Mrs. Jennie Ellmers of Orleans, Neb., by the judge, Mrs. Irene W. Haykin. The recipe submitted by Mrs. F. R. Stanley, R. R. No. 1, Lincoln, was considered worthy of the second prize.

The decision of the judge follows:

First prize, $2—Mrs Jennie Ellmers, Orleans, Neb.

Second prize, $1—Mrs. F. R. Stanley, R. R. No. 1, Lincoln.

Honorable Mention.

Mrs H. O. Weller, 2311 U street, Lincoln.

Mrs. C. M. Whitsel, Box 120, Exeter, Neb.

Miss Laura Lohmeier, R. R. No. 6, Box 111, Lincoln.

Mrs. C. G. Grenzebach, 1227 South Sixteenth street, Lincoln.

Miss Sara Friend, 1306 G street, Lincoln.

Mrs. Josephine Campbell, 2779 California Court, Lincoln.

Miss Inis Martin, R. R. No. 4, Seward, Neb.

Mrs. B. F. Carroll, Fairfield, Neb.

Mrs. Leroy Cline, Box 393, Havelock, Neb.

Mrs. J. C. Kellenbarger, Anselmo, Nebraska.

Mrs. George Motley, Box 135, Edgar, Neb.

The winning recipes follow:

Watermelon Rind Pickles (Mrs. Jennie Elimers)—Pare off very carefully the green part of the rind of a good, ripe watermelon. Trim off the red part, cut in pieces two inches in length, place in porcelain-lined or aluminum kettle. To each quart of rind use one teaspoon salt, and water to cover nearly. Boil until tender enough to pierce with a silver fork or leave in fireless cooker over night. Pour into a colander to drain, dry a few pieces at a time, by pressing gently in a crash towel. Make a syrup allowing one quart best cider vinegar to three pounds sugar. Make two small cheese cloth bags. Put into each one teaspoon cloves and two teaspoons cinnamon. Drop these into syrup and let boil up. Skim. Put in the melon rind and cook fifteen minutes. Fill sterilized jars with the rind. Cover with the boiling syrup. Place spice bag on top and seal tight.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs. F. R. Stanley)—Cut away all the outer green and inner red of the rind of one medium sized melon. Cut into medium sized pieces. Put on the stove in cold water, adding one teaspoon salt. Bring to a slow boil and boil until it can be pierced with a tooth pick. Then take out the pieces and put into cold water, changing water until every piece is cold. Then put in colander to drain. Take one pint of vineacar, two pounds of sugar, two tablespoons of stick cinnamon, two tablespoons whole cloves, and boil the mixture hard for five minutes. Then put in the rind and boil them ten minutes. Take out and put in gallon jar and pour juice over them. The next morning pour off this juice and bring it to a good boil. Pour over cold pickles. Do this for three mornings. On the third morning, put them in quart jars and pour hot juice over them and seal, although they will keep all winter without sealing. Put spices in bag to prevent coloring the pickles.

Eleven Honorable Mention.

The recipes winning honorable mention are as follows.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs H O. Weller)—Cut the rind into small pieces and cover with cold water to which add one tablespoon salt. Let boil until it can be pierced with a fork, about one hour, then drain off the water and throw pickles into cold water, changing it sev[illegible] times while the following syrup is prepared. 1 quart vinegar, 3 pounds sugar, 4 tablespoons stick cinnamon, 1 tablespoon whole cloves. Let this boil five minutes and pour it over the pickles from which the water has been drained. Let stand over night. The next day drain off the syrup and let boil for five minutes. Then pour over pickles. The third day boil all together five minutes when it is done. Put a piece of cheesecloth over the pickles to keep the cloves and cinnamon away and on the third day omit the spice altogether. This keeps them light colored.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs. C. M. Whitsel)—Pare all the red and green rind off one large watermelon. Soak in weak salt water over night. Drain thoroughly in the morning. Heat one pint vinegar, ½ pint water, 2 cups sugar, 2 sticks cinnamon bark, and a dozen cloves. Drop in the melon. Boil until the pieces of melon rind are clear and can while hot.

Watermelon Pickles (Miss Laura Lohmeier)—Cut watermelon rind, after removing the skin, into cubes or squares about 1½ inches in length. Cover with cold water, add one tablespoon salt for each quart of water used. Let stand over night. Next day drain and rinse several times in cold water. Cover with boiling water and cook until tender and transparent. Drain in the colander. Weigh melon rind and for each pound allow ¾ of a pound sugar, ½ ounce ginger root sliced, 1 quart mild vinegar. Make a syrup of vinegar and sugar. Add the ginger root and boil ten minutes. Add watermelon rind, and cook until tender. Put in jars and seal.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs. C. G. Grenzebach)—Rind of one melon, 3 cups sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 cups vinegar, 1 teaspoon whole cloves. Cut rind in 2 inch strips. Soak in brine twenty-four hours, using 1-3 cup salt and one quart water. Rinse drain and cook in boiling water until tender. Put spices in a bag and boil twenty minutes with vinegar and sugar. Add rind and cook one-half hour slowly. Seal.

Sweet Pickled Watermelon (Miss Sara Friend)—Two pounds watermelon rind, 1 cup salt to 4 quarts water, 2 quarts vinegar, 4 cups sugar, one-fourth up mixed pickling spices. Pare rind, remove all red meat and cut into small strips or squares. Soak in salt water over night. Next morning soak in fresh water about two hours. Drain. Boil vinegar, sugar, and spices, the latter tied in a bag, until clear, about twelve minutes. Add the watermelon rind and boil until tender, not soft. Test with a straw. Remove rind to jars with perforated skimmer, boil syrup down a little, and pour hot over the cooked rind in jars. Cover air tight and keep in a cool place.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs. Josephine Campbell)—Boil together for fifteen minutes one pint cider vinegar and 1¾ pounds granulated sugar. Tie in a piece of cheesecloth whole cloves, 12 whole allspice, 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1 saltspoon ground mace, and small piece of ginger root. Put with vinegar and boil. Have ready strips of melon which has laid in salted water over night. Put into the vinegar as many as can be nicely covered. Let all boil gently until the melon looks clear. Drain off the vinegar, put the melon in jars, reheat the vinegar, and pour over the melon. Seal jars.

Watermelon Pickles (Miss Inis Martin)—Cut watermelon rind in two inch strips. Soak in brine twenty-four hours, using 1-3 cup salt to 1 quart water. Rinse, drain, and cook in boiling water until tender. Tie in a bag 2 tablespoons cinnamon and 1 tablespoon whole cloves. Boil for twenty minutes with 4 cups sugar and 2 cups vinegar. Remove spices and add the tender watermelon rind. Cook slowly for one-half hour and seal.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs. Leroy Cline)—Peel and oak in salt water over night, 10 pounds rind boiled in pure water until tender. Drain water off, and make a syrup of 2 pounds white sugar, 1 quart vinegar, ½ ounce cloves, 1 ounce cinnamon. The syrup is to be poured over the rind boiling hot three days in succession.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs B. F. Carroll)—Ten pounds watermelon rinds boiled in water until they are tender. Drain the water off. Make a syrup of 2 pounds of sugar, 1 quart vinegar, ½ ounce cloves, and 1 ounce cinnamon. The syrup is to be boiled and poured over melon.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs J. C. Kellenbarger)—Pare and cut rinds in strips, one by three inches, and soak over night in weak salt water. In the morning drain, add fresh water, and boil until tender. Drain again. In another kettle put one part vinegar to two parts water, and 2 cups of sugar for each pint of vinegar used. Put 1 tablespoon whole mixed spices, 2 sticks cinnamon, and 1 teaspoon whole cloves into spice bag and put into vinegar. Let this mixture boil a few minutes. Add rinds, boil again, and they are done. Seal in sterilized jars.

Watermelon Pickles (Mrs. George Motley)—Four cups sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 cups vinegar, and 1 teaspoon whole cloves. Cut watermelon rind in two inch strips, soak in brine twenty-four hours, using 1-3 cup salt to 1 quart water. Rinse. Drain and cook in boiling water until tender. Tie spices in bag and boil twenty minutes with vinegar and sugar. Add melon rind and cook slowly for one half hour. Seal.

MINERVA'S MAIL

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Feels Free With Girls.

Dear Minerva: I'm a girl in my teens and go with the boys quite a bit but it seems as though I don't talk enough to suit them. When I'm with a girl I can talk and have the best time, but when I'm with a boy I can't think of anything suitable to say. What shall I do about it?

And Minerva which do you think will be worn most this fall, ratine or crepe? And would you advise a girl to have her hair bobbed now or is it going out of style.—LONESOME BILLY.

A. You had better play pretend, and let the pretense be that you are with girls even when with boys. Just strive to act, think and talk naturally with the boys as you do with girls. The best way to overcome the stiffness you feel when with the boys is just to keep trying to feel at ease, and to feign ease even when you do not feel it.

Both ratine and crepe are leading fall materials; it is too early to tell which will be the more popular. I would advise against having the hair bobbed. Short hair looks horrid with long dresses which are in style, and so the girls with bobbed hair are having a sad time trying to conceal it.

Fond of Fun.

Dear Minerva: We are two girls both seventeen years old and juniors in high school. Last year we went to one dance every two weeks and our professors said he could take five per cent off our grades for it. Could he? Was it wrong for us to go. Our parents didn't care if we did.

We have been going with two boys that live in a town ten miles from us. We have gone with them steady for about five months. The other night we were feeling rather grouchy and guess we did act horrid. These boys thought we were mad at them and they have not asked us for a date since. We were not mad and would it be all right for us to write to them, just a friendly letter and say something about the way we acted. They are the only boys we were with much that our parents didn't object to—RUTH AND LUCILLE.

A. Your professor wouldn't be playing fair to lower your grades for your outside frivolities, so long as they did not affect your efficiency in school. If the dances were properly chaperoned, did not affect your school work and were approved by your parents, I cannot see wherein the harm lay.

It would be very nice to write the boys a note, telling them you feared you might have given them the impression of a personal grouch against them when it was only a general grouch, and asking them to renew their calls.

A Social Break.

Dear Minerva: Please help me to a solution of a troublesome problem. A certain lady who had pretended great friendliness toward me, invited me to call upon her during vacation. I could not make this call, but had arranged to go a few weeks later when a message came from her stating that she "did not feel that she could entertain me," going on to say she was offended because I had visited all over the neighborhood and had not gone to see her, that she could not be hypocritical but must express her feelings. I was surprised at such a turn in her attitude but decided if she had taken such a dislike to me from no evident cause whatever, as I had not "visited all over the neighborhood," it would be wisest for me not to force myself upon her. However I always spoke to her when I met her out in public and held no bitter feelings toward her. I was engaged to the only brother of this lady's husband. Our wedding was to be at the parsonage of a church in a little city about six miles distant. I wished my sister to accompany me as a witness and my fiance suggested that we invite his brother. We acted upon this suggestion and the brother accepted the invitation. Now the offended lady, my sister-in-law, is extremely bitter towards us and some of the neighbors appear to think we acted very wrong in inviting the husband to our wedding and not inviting his wife. Honestly Minerva, we had not the slightest intention of hurting her, or showing spitefulness and what we wish is for you to tell us if you think we did wrong. If so, how should we proceed to right such a wrong? Your advice would be greatly appreciated by—THE OFFENDERS.

A. Inviting the husband and not the wife to the wedding was a social break, which hurt even though thoughtlessly and not maliciously done. Particularly when it followed upon another unpleasant though seemingly blameless encounter with the lady who is now your sister-in-law, was it sure to offend. The thing for you to do is to go straight to this offended lady with an apology and an attempt at reconciliation. Admit that you made a mistake, though it was unintentional and assure her of your regrets and desire to make things right with her and be at peace with everyone.

All Were Atoms Once.

Dear Minerva: I could not help but notice your omission of any remarks to "Plato Roth" in his tirade against women, which for the most part was true. Another man who wrote about the swagger women of today demanding some of the seventeenth century courtesy was certainly "stepped on" by you. You said he surely had a "nice grouch on." Now "fess up," Minerva, I believe he hit you in a rather sensitive spot. He told the truth and nothing but the truth. Women of today smoke, swear, drink, use dope, paint up their faces until as far as looks are concerned it is impossible to tell a decent woman from a scarlet one. They wear swagger clothes, carry swagger sticks, wear men's felt hats, play men's games, hold men's places in offices, want to be equal with men and wish to be greeted with the same camaraderie as men greet one another. So of course it is a shock to a man when he meets a modest woman who demands gallantry from him.

How strange for a woman to object to a man smoking in any place whatsoever when she smokes there herself.

To every twelve divorces asked for by women there is one man who seeks separation. Only about one man out of every dozen treats his wife fair and square and imposes no unnecessary hardship on her. Plato seems to think there are no bad men. From the time a boy is fourteen years old until he is thirty-five a confession of life would read blacker than that of any scarlet woman in history. Society knows this and accepts it as inevitable, thinks that is the man of it. A girl from the time she is twelve years old until she is married, puts up a struggle for honor that deserves a croix-de-guerre, and if she wins out is eligible to marry with one of those worn-out, disease-ridden men. No one is privileged to do wrong just because he knows no one will find it out.

"Plato" is right about certain kinds of women. Animals have more nature instinct than some women. A hen wants little chickens, a goose some goslings, a cow a baby calf, and so on. But a matron that perhaps could just as well become a mother as not, contents herself with some freakish pet. If you ever told some of these proper women they had ever been a little, sour smelling, colicky, damp baby themselves they would deny it emphatically. Yet the world holds nothing dearer than babies.—MRS. A.

JUST ONE HAPPY NOVELTY AFTER ANOTHER AT THE LIBERTY THE LAST HALF OF THIS WEEK.

Winsome, winning and wondrous is the new bill which opened at the Liberty yesterday. The program includes the standard offering of Lillian Steele and company in a travesty entitled 'Love Letters;' Mabel Blondell Revue, a quintette of versatile artists, presenting a pot pourri of songs and dances; Hap and Florence Farnell in a hodge-podge of witticisms; Billy Walsh the black-faced funster in songs and dances; Gabby Brothers, novelty entertainers and the tabloid drama, "The Cowboy and the Rajah," the merry comedy, "Three Weeks Off" with that inimitable comedian, Lee Moran.

RODOLPH VALENTINO IN "BLOOD AND SAND" CROWDING THE LYRIC TO THE DOORS.

While he fought maddened beasts in the roaring arena, two women—a pretty peasant and a titled beauty of the Spanish court—fought for his love. "Blood and Sand" which opened for an indefinite engagement at the Lyric yesterday, is Rodolph Valentino's sensational success. Prologue, "The Arena," with Carl L. Schaefer, os "The Toreador." Owing to the length of this pretentious production, the shows start at one, three, five, seven and nine sharp, so come early if you wish to secure a good seat.

THOMAS MEIGHAN ATTRACTING LARGE AUDIENCES AT THE RIALTO THIS WEEK.

Thomas Meighan's latest success, "If You Believe It, It's So," is soul-stirring drama of a fallen man's battle for love and happiness. Theodore Roberts, Pauline Strake and Joseph J. Dowling head the great supporting cast; Bobby Vernon in his newest comedy, 'Pardon my Glove" is a riot of laughs. Other entertaining subjects and the prologue "Rock of Ages" sung by Homer K. Compton completes an evening's program you cannot afford to miss.

"MY DAD" A DRAMA OF THE FROZEN TRAILS AT THE COLONIAL.

For sheer drama it would be difficult to find a motion picture to beat "My Dad," in which Johnnie Walker of "Over the Hill" fame makes his debut. The rush and surge of tremendous story, the hot glow of deep romance—the keen, tingling breath of the open spaces—a big, quickening action story of the snows with love and honor triumphant.

DEADLOCK AT THE WHITTIER SCHOOL STILL CONTINUES

No Action Follows Meeting of Board Members and Patrons.

Pupils Going to Old Building as Protest—Mass Meet-Called.

Call a Meeting.

A special meeting has been called for tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Whittier school building. All patrons are urged to be present. Representatives from all elementary schools are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

George Woods and M. L. Palmer, of the board of education, and Supt M. C. Lefler and Assistant Supt. W. W. Curfman, met with about 300 patrons of the old Whittier district at the Whittier school house Thursday evening. The present situation, in which the board has dispensed with Whittier as an elementary district and patrons are refusing to send their children elsewhere, was discussed by J Lloyd McMaster, representing the parents, and Mr. Woods, Mrs. J. P. Fitch, who presided, definitely refused to allow open discussion or questioning of the school officials, saying she had promised Mrs. Cora Warner, president of the board, that if members would be present, they would not be "heckled." A considerable number of patrons took up various matters with the board and teachers after the session It was informally decided to hold an open mass meeting Friday evening.

Mr. McMaster explained at length the stand of the Whittier patrons. It was understood, he said, that the district was to have both a junior high and elementary school. The organized protest which is being made by sending children to the building each morning and noon since Tuesday, is not a hysterical movement, he asserted, but expresses the deep feelings of the parents, who dislike to send their small children the longer distances and across busy streets necessitated by the redistricting. He referred to several examples, where distinct hardships are worked in the case of specific families. He then asked the board members why the old Whittier building, which is in fairly good condition, must be torn down, and why it cannot be used as an elementary school.

Says Action Surprise.

In reply Mr. Woods emphasized the fact that he was speaking as one member of the board, not officially representing that body. The action of the Whittier patrons has come as a distinct surprise, he said. The change had been mentioned in the press, and bulletins issued by the board and given to the pupils to take to their homes. Other districts, in which children have to go further distances than the Whittier children have offered no protest, Mr. Woods declared.

Mr. Woods begged his hearers to place themselves in the position of the school board, who have not to consider just three or four hundred children, but over 12,000 throughout the city. Referring back to 1917, he said the board found a serious situation. Schools were overcrowded, with not enough money in sight to correct the evil. Finally, after careful investigation, the plan of building four junior high schools was adopted. Whittier building is the first of these, and will be finished by the first of the year.

The senior high school could never have opened this year, said the board member, unless the overcrowded condition there was remedied. In doing this, it was necessary to place a section of the ninth grade in Whittier, with seventh and eighth graders. This relieved the situation all around, affecting some four or five thousand children.

To Childrens' Advantage.

In regard to the smaller children of the parents present, he said he still believed the new plan was to their advantage. They will be able to attend newer, larger and more sanitary schools, with consequent better educational advantages in every way. The distance was checked carefully, Mr. Woods said, and it was found that ten blocks was the maximum distance. In reply to the question as to whether Whittier patrons might expect any relief along lines suggested by them, Mr. Woods refused to speak for the board, saying that the latter, however, was always glad to consider any new factors or viewpoints in deciding a problem.

In closing the meeting Mrs. Fitch asked the patrons to consider what new facts had been developed by the talks. Nothing was said about discontinuing taking children to the Whittier building, and parents will contiuue this protest until a mass meeting decides otherwise. Mr. McMaster expressed his intention of going before the board of education formally and asking why the old Whittier building cannot be used as an elementary school after the completion of the junior high school.

GEDDIS DISCUSSES U. S. PART IN WAR

Declares America Played a Great Role in Ending Bloodiest Conflict.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British minister to the United States, speaking last night at a dinner given to visiting delegates to the national police conference, said that America played a great role in ending the world war and that anyone who said otherwise was one of three things, "ignorant, malicious or just a fool."

Both the British ambassador and John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain who was another speaker, referred in their addresses to the recent interview attributed to Rudyard Kipling, belittling America's part in the war. Both speakers expressed satisfaction that Mr. Kipling had denied the words attributed to him. Ambassador Geddes warned his hearers to be on their guard against those who sought to sow seeds of discord.

Referring to Mr. Kipling again. he said:

"I am glad that he has emphatically denied the interview attributed to him. If he had he would not have spoken as a representative of British thought, he would not have spoken as a man who knows what he is talking about."

Former Ambassador Davis said that he knew Kipling personally and that if he did speak the words of the interview, he did not speak the sentiment of his heart or mind or those of the British people.

Sent to Jail For Striking Co-Worker

George Gilson, 24, pleaded guilty in Justice Hawes' court Thursday afternoon to a charge of assault and battery and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. According to Sheriff Miller, Gibson struck Harvey Matson during a dispute in the Burlington shops at Havelock last Sunday morning and broke two bones in Matson's face. Matson was confined to a hospital for a few days. The dispute was over a seventy-five-cent debt, which Gibson claimed Matson owed him. Both men were employed in the Havelock shops.

MANY SHOPMEN GO BACK TO OLD JOB; MORE ROADS SIGN

Thousands of Rail Workers Return to Work When Carriers Contract.

Northern Pacific and Great Northern Said to Be Seeking Peace.

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—With thousands of the shopmen on roads which have already made peace in the rail strike, already back at work, and with thousands of others preparing to take back their former jobs, a dozen or more railroads that have stood out against the Jewell-Willard plan of settlement were reported negotiating for peace today.

Among new roads seeking peace are understood to be the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern.

If these roads sign up, it was expected that other great western roads, among the "die hards," would fall in line and also negotiate agreements.

The Elgin, Joliet & Eastern has completed plans to sign the agreement, it was reported, had dropped out of the plan.

The Rock Island negotiations with the shop crafts, after a five hour conference, were broken off. J. E. Gorman, president of the road, said: "We submitted a proposal, but it was rejected."

The Soo line was negotiating for a settlement, it was reported.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul was the first road on which the men were ordered back to work. Over 1,500 shopmen were back at their jobs in the shops of the road here today. The Chicago & Northwestern shops were also maned by regular shopmen today.

The Pennsylvania, Burlington, Santa Fe, Wabash Union Pacific and Erie railroads were still outside the peace fold. These roads remained firm in their declarations that they were not concerned in the settlement plans, but would continue to operate with the forces recruited since the strike began.

TWENTY DEAD IN DUBLIN CONFLICT

Fighting Reported Over the Greater Part of the Irish Free State.

(International News Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Twenty persons were killed in battle in Dublin on Wednesday, according to delayed advices received here today.

Fighting is reported from the greater part of the Irish Free State There was a particularly heavy engagement in the region of Kenmare, which has been recaptured from the Irish rebels. There was also violent fighting in the section of Cliffden. The wireless station at Cliffden was reported to be isolated.

President William T. Cosgrave of the dail eireann is planning a peace move for Ulster. The removal of armed guards from the Ulster frontier indicates that an agreement from Dublin and Belfast is near.

The postal strike situation is unchanged. There has been an increase in picketing but the Free State troops are keeping disorders down.

Woes of Beauty Queen Too Much For Her to Bear

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The woes of royalty became too much today for Lillian Harnach, queen of the Long Beach, N. Y., bathing beauties, and just back from Atlantic City, to bear in silence.

Someone broke into her room at Atlantic City and stole the diamonds from the ring she received along with the crown at Long Beach, but that, she complained, was as nothing compared with the "snippy way" in which some of her associates from the west acted.

It seems that three of the four New York queens went to Atlantic City to contest for the honor of being Miss America, wearing the latest styles of bobbed hair, while the other fifty-three wore curls down to their waists.

Miss Harnach said the westerners lost no opportunity to poke fun at the abbreviated coiffures. In fact, she declared, it got so bad that I let on that I had been selected at Long Beach, Cal., instead of Long Beach, N. Y., and after that I didn't have much trouble."

SLIM CHANCE FOR SISLER TO GET IN GAMES AGAINST YANKS

SISLER ON BENCH IN YANKEE SERIES

No Chance, St. Louis Says, for Browns' Star Slugger to Get In Game.

(Associated Press).

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 15.—The St. Louis lineup put in the field against Boston yesterday will remain unchanged, says Manager Fohl of the Browns after yesterday's game in which Pat Collins, second-string catcher, made a good showing on first base in the absence of George Sisler, who is suffering with a sprained shoulder. It was the third infield combination Fohl has used in an effort to fill the gap caused by Sisler's layoff.

With Collins on first, McManus who had received a tryout on the initial sack in the first game against Boston, returned to his regular position on second base, and Eddie Foster was sent back from second to third, while Frank Ellerbe, who is still suffering from an injury to his knee, went to the bench.

It is almost certain that the star first baseman will not be able to get into the game for the series with the New York team. The club's physician has ordered Sisler to rest for a week.

Odds Favor New Yorkers.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Victories by all four leading pennant contenders, the New York and Pittsburgh clubs in the National and New York and St Louis in the American, left the relative standings of the rivals unchanged today, but improved the mathematical chances of the leading Gotham clubs.

By capturing thirteen of their remaining 18 games the Giants can win even if the Pirates take all of their remaining 16 contests. In the American, where the battle is closer, the Browns, to win, must take 12 out of 13 remaining games if the Yankees win ten out of the fourteen. The American league rivals start a series at St. Louis tomorrow that probably will decide the race.

Joe Bush's brilliant pitching and Babe Ruth's thirty-second homer were high lights in the Yankees' second straight triumph over Chicago, 4 to 1, while the Browns staged a belated rally to down Boston, 5 to 3. The Giants, outhit 15 to 7, called on five hurlers before nosing out the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 6, while the Pirates crushed Boston again, 8 to 0, with Babe Adams in rare pitching form.

Pillette of Detroit turned back the Athletics, 5 to 2, and Stuffy McInnis poled out a homer that enabled Cleveland to down Washington, 4 to 3, in the other American league contest.

Chamberlain Quits Staleys to Join Canton Bulldogs

Guy Chamberlain, all-American halfback and end when he wore Cornhusker moleskins at the University of Nebraska during the gridiron seasons of 1914 and 1915, has tied up with the famous Canton, O., Bulldogs for another season in professional football.

Chamberlain was a member of the Canton eleven a few years ago, but joined the Staley eleven, a professional aggregation at Decatur, Ill., playing left end and captaining the team. The Staley management decided recently to abandon professional football and Chamberlain resigned his position at the Staley corn products factory to rejoin the Bulldogs at Canton.

FILIPINO FIGHTER KNOCKS OUT BUFF

Villa Wrests Crown From Jersey Boy in Eleven Furious Rounds.

SCRAPPING FILIPINO ON TRAIL OF JIMMY WILDE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Pancho Villa, sensational Filipino boxer who won the American flyweight championship last night by a technical knockout over Johnny Buff of Jersey City, N. J., in the eleventh round of a 15-round match, will now seek a match with Jimmy Wilde of England for the world's title.

(Associated Press.)

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Pancho Villa of Manila, P. I., became flyweight champion of the United States by scoring a technical knockout over Johnny Buff of Jersey City twenty-seven seconds after the opening of the eleventh round of a scheduled twelve-round bout.

Buff's seconds threw a towel into the ring when Johnny battered to grogginess, stood helpless before the Filipino's attack.

In the tenth round Villa scored two knockdowns. He began by pummelling Buff with both hands, rushing him to the ropes and then chasing him across the ring. Buff was reeling when Villa landed his left to the head and sent the American bumping to the floor.

Villa Draws First Blood.

Villa led at the end of the third round. He drew blood from Buff's mouth in the first, but the American champion did not open up until the third. The fighting was fierce, with Villa leading in the attack. Villa rushed Buff to the ropes with a shower of blows in the fourth and cuffed him about in the next two rounds.

The Filipino started to measure the American for a knockout in the sixth, but Buff kept clear and maintained a safe blocking defense.

Buff Saved by the Bell.

The first time Villa landed both hands to the head the American lay on the floor until five was counted and the bell rang, saving him. He was picked up and placed in his chair.

It was Villa's fight from the first. He was always active, always punching for an opening, instead of waiting for a chance, as Buff did. His terrific body blows with both hands sapped the American champion in the early rounds and his crushing left hooks and jabs to the head in the latter round brought him the victory.

Buff was unable to open an attack. He tried to edge in blows after the third round, but Villa met every attack with another of two-handed onslaughts, punching relentlessly.

Campbell Blanks Hildreth; Smith Allows Two Hits

(Special to The Star.)

CAMPBELL, Neb., Sept. 15.—Campbell shut out Hildreth at the Franklin county fair Wednesday, 5 to 0. Harry Smith was scheduled to pitch for Campbell but was late in arriving. The first two innings were pitched by Grit Roulier and only six men faced him in the two frames.

Smith then arrived and slipped them past the Hildreth batters the remainder of the game. Only two scratch bingles were secured by the Hildreth club.

Charleson was on the slab for Hildreth. He pitched good ball except during the third and eighth stanzas. In the third, Smith walked and advanced to second on Lindgren's out. He scored on A. Roy's hit. Denton smacked a two-bagger to center scoring Roy.

In the eighth, Campbell got three runs, Gagnon got life on an error and Grit Roulier singled. Both runners advanced on Wagner's out. Campbell then pulled a squeeze play, L Roulier bunting and Gagnor crossing the plate. Grit Roulier scored on Reichstein's sacrifice fly and L. Roulier crossed the platter when the Hildreth centerfielder dropped Smith's high fly. Score by innings:

		R.	H.	E.
Hildreth	000 000 000—0	2	2
Campbell	002 000 30x—5	7	2

Batteries—Charleston and Gausman; G. Roulier, Smith and Lindgren.

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Sept. 15.—The Pawnee City Indians lost to the Axtell, Kas., ball club here yesterday afternoon, 5 to 1.

Nelson Wins North East Golf Laurels

(Special to The Star.)

WAYNE, Neb., Sept. 15.—Dr. L. L. Nelson of Norfolk, former champion of the Northeast Nebraska Golf association, won a second title yesterday by defeating H. James Agern of Wayne in the final match of the tourney.

Pennant Dope

There was no change in the standing of the leaders and pennant contenders today. The Yanks still maintained their advantage of a game and a half over the St. Louis Browns, while the Giants were still five games in front of the Pirates.

The Yanks will sweep into St. Louis tomorrow for the crucial series of their western trip. Provided they arrive in the Mound City with the same advantage they hold today, the Browns must win all three games to wrest the lead from New York. If the Yanks can more than hold their own with the Browns, the rest of their trip will not be filled with thorns.

The Yanks have fourteen more games to play, while the Browns have one less.

While the Giants keep on winning the Pirates cannot overhaul them. But if the Pirates should come to Gotham next week and take the three games, the race will be a drive to the wire.

The Giants have eighteen more games on the schedule. If they win thirteen of them, the Pirates cannot win the flag, even if they win their remaining sixteen games.

The Pirates have an easier schedule than the Giants. The Giant pitchers have been going none too good of late, although the team has won through heavy hitting. On the other hand, the Pirate pitchers are holding up well and allowing their opponents very few hits. What they will do against the Giants next week will have an important bearing on the result.

ROCKNE BUILDING NEW 'GRID' TEAM

Notre Dame Tackles Tough Schedule and Coach Has Job On His Hands.

(Special to The Star.)

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Sept. 15.—A search for eleven men capable of filling the places of the entire regular football team of 1921, none of whom were included in the squad of eighty which reported today to Coach Rockne, is on at Notre Dame. Particular exploration will be made for a passer to succeed Johnny Mohardt, a center and two ends.

Paul Castner made a determined attempt to fill a place in the backfield of 1921 and is regarded as the one man certain of his job this year. Ed Degree at guard, Cotton and Lief at tackles and Capt. Barberry at end showed enough to give them the pole in the present race for places, but the other six positions are undisguised free-for-alls in which the winners may not be determined before the year is over.

Sophomore Material Good.

With this group of embryonic material, Coach Rockne will attempt to shape an outfit capable of clouting George Tech Army and Nebraska into submission. The undoubted ability of the local coach and the fact that the sophomore material is considered good, furnish elements of hope, but the untried eleven must face the veteran Army, Nebraska and Georgia Tech teams on foreign fields which sobers the situation. Adherents of the team are sitting tight and awaiting the result of the Georgia Tech game Oct. 28, which is regarded as the gauge of other battles. The schedule:

The Notre Dame Schedule.

Sept. 30—Kalamazoo at Notre Dame.
Oct. 7—St. Louis at Notre Dame.
Oct. 14—Purdue at Lafayette.
Oct. 21—Depauw at Notre Dame.
Oct. 28—Georgia Tech. at Atlanta.
Nov. 4—Indiana at Notre Dame (home-coming).
Nov. 11—Army at West Point.
Nov. 18—Butler at Indianapolis.
Nov. 25—Carnegie Tech. at Pittsburgh.
Nov. 30—Nebraska at Lincoln.

Freshmen footballers who reported today will be equipped during the coming week. Cross country candidates have been called to report on Monday.

Silver Cup to 'Pop' At Kentucky Fair

(Associated Press.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 15.—E. F. (Pop) Geers today added another trophy to his collection, but in acquiring it the 71-year-old reinsman broke a record of forty-seven years standing on the turf by being called into the judges' stand at the Kentucky fair yesterday afternoon. However, it was a 'happy occasion,' the veteran declared.

Driving Milady Guy, daughter of Guy Axworthy, "Pop" easily won the governor's cup event, a three-year-old trotting stake with a value of $1,000. Governor Edwin P. Morrow then called Geers into the stand and presented the silver loving cup donated by the fair association.

"This is the first time I was ever called into the judges' stand in my forty-seven years on the turf," the old master said, "but it certainly is a happy occasion."

TENNIS WIZARDS DAZZLE CRITICS

Victors Show Such Skill That Prophets Hesitate to Pick Winner.

JOHNSTON VS. RICHARDS; TILDEN VS. PATTERSON.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—William M. Johnston of San Francisco faced Vincent Richards of Yonkers, N. Y., and William T. Tilden of Philadelphia was matched against Gerald Patterson of Melbourne, Australia today in the semi-finals of the national lawn tennis singles championship tournament on the courts of the Germantown Cricket club.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 15.—Looking on yesterday while William T. Tilden knocked off Zeno Shimidzu with debonaire ease in the fifth round of the national tennis championship in singles the thought became uppermost that here was the champion of them all. Tilden looked almost too good to be human.

That was early in the day. A bit later, William M. Johnston came out and make a Latin wreck out of Manuel Alonzo of Spain. Immediately you almost forgot Tilden in the contemplation of Johnston's amazing pace and subtlety. He was even better than the day he raced Gerald Patterson of Australia silly in the challenge round of the Davis cup.

Williams Easy for Anzac.

Subsequently, Patterson won with ease from Dick Williams. That performance edged with doubt the early conviction that an all-American final round between Tilden and Johnston was inevitable. Patterson, who has played laudable tennis since the opening of the tournament, never looked better.

Finally, Vincent Richards, the very young man from Yonkers, beat Anderson of Australia in straight sets. He, too, was more than an impressive winner.

And there you have all the dirt in one dust pan.

Picking Winner Precarious.

If they hold their form through the semi-final round today, picking winners will become something of a precarious undertaking. On past and present performances, Tilden should eliminate the last of the foreign entries in the person of Patterson. But the latter judged on what he is showing at the moment, may decline to be a party to the proceedings. It is one of those matches where anything can happen.

Mattick Clan Pounds Out 9 to 5 Victory in Second Combat of Series.

By "CY" SHERMAN.

Manager "Chink" Mattick's Western league Orphans from Sioux City yesterday ran their winning streak to five successive triumps by trimming Barney Burch's Omaha athletes, 9 to 5, at Lincoln's State league park. Solid hits, delivered in the pinches, were responsible for Sioux City's victory. Whenever the Orphans were in dire need of a blow some one of Manager 'Chink's' gladiators stepped up to the plate and drove the Spalding pellet to safe territory.

Lefty Hyman, Barney's Yiddish southpaw, previous winner in six successive pitching performances, was handed his first defeat since donning Omaha spangles. The Orphans slammed his slants for two markers in the first frame scored the third and clinched victory in the again in the seventh by mauling the Omaha side-wheeler for six hits and five runs.

Davis, a right-hander and the property of the San Francisco Seals, by whom he has been recalled for next season, hurled the sphere for the Orphans and yielded eleven hits. Davis kept the blows nicely scattered, however, until the ninth, when the Burch clan rallied to the extent of three runs.

Hemingways Great Day.

All other proceedings were merely incidental, however, to the big league baseball stuff displayed by Ed Hemingway, a third baseman who is covering the second sack for the Sioux. Hemingway flashed as much brilliance as a Sisler, a Hornsby or a Cobb. In five trips to the plate, Hemingway mauled Hyman's offerings for a triple and three singles, rounding out his offensive exhibition by stealing two bases and counting four runs. In the field, Hemingway assimilated seven putouts and six assists without a skip.

The Orphans proceeded to make existence miserable for Hyman in the very first frame. Hamilton worked his way on by virtue of a free pass and Hemingway whacked the first pitch for a single to center. Elsh's infield out advanced both runners. A walk to Metz filled the bases and Husky Shandling cracked a single down the left field line which enabled Hamilton and Hemingway to speed to the plate.

Clinch Victory in Seventh.

A three-sacker by Hemingway and a two-baser by Metz counted another run for the Orphans in the third, after which Hyman tightened and stopped the Mattick clan all the way to the seventh. This inning put the Omaha aggregation out of business. Mattick and Davis singled and Hamilton sacrificed. Hemingway beat out a slow infield roller toward third and Elsh unloaded a double, while Metz and Shandling came through with singles. All told, the Orphans compiled five runs in that frame.

Hemingway's third single, a fumble by Masters in left, a steal of third and Elsh's sacrifice bunt manufactured the Orphans' ninth and final run in the eighth inning.

Pitcher Davis balked the Burch boys until the seventh, when Spencer singled his way on and completed the circuit on Hyman's infield out and Bates' blow for two bases. "Pug" Griffin doubled in starting the eighth and crossed the plate on a single by Manush. Free passes to Hyman and Gislason, a three-sacker by Grantham and an infield out netted the Burch gang three markers in the last round. The official statistics:

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.

Activity of speculative pools, combined with some investment buying and the absence of effective selling pressure resulted in another array of striking advances in today's stock market. Continued improvement in the industrial situation contributed to the more cheerful sentiment. Sales approximated 950,000 shares.

Irregular price movements took place at the opening of today's stock market session, but the main tendency again was upward. Public utilities rose substantially on the expectations of a heavy accumulation of buying orders, new highs for the year being established by North American and People's Gas while Consolidated Gas shot up nearly 4 points and Laclede Gas 1¾. Rail shares held firm, New Orleans, Texas & Mexico climbing 1⅛ to a new peak price, while most of the standard issues improved fractionally. Wilson company responded to the reports of a packing house merger by climbing 2 points and Iron Products moved up 2⅜ to a new top price. Profit taking caused some recessions in domestic oils, notably in Cosden and Houston, while Mexican Petroleum, after an early display of strength, slipped back 2 points. Free offerings of Cluett-Peabody forced it down more than 2 points.

The market steadied and then moved forward in response to the large volume of buying orders which came into the market during the morning. Public utilities, oils and merchandising shares led the advance, gains of the leaders ranging from 2 to nearly 5 points. There was repeated evidence of profit taking, but all the offerings were easily absorbed. Consolidated Gas extended its gain to 4¾ points and gains of 3 points or more were made by People's Gas, Laclede Gas, General Electric, Wilson company, May Department Stores, National Cloak & Suit, United States Rubber, first preferred, and New Orleans, Texas & Mexico. Other strong spots were Texas Gulf Sulphur, Phillips Petroleum, National Biscuit, Iron Products, American Writing Paper, preferred, and Toledo, St. Louis & Western, preferred

The tone of the market became stronger as the session progressed with the steel, tobacco, equipment, shipping and standard railroad shares moving forward with rapid strides. Buying back of stock by the short faction and the impressive evidence afforded of the constant growth of the investment demand were primarily responsible for the comprehensive show of strength. American Radiator moved up 5 points, American Snuff, 4¼, American Car, 3, Gulf States Steel, 2⅜, and American Locomotive and Marine, preferred, 2 points.

Usual week-end profit taking caused some irregularity in final dealings. Low-priced oils, motors and rubbers were bid up but cheaper rails and some of the specialties were offered freely. The closing was irregular.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 15.

WHEAT—Talk among bullish traders about European war possibilities gave the wheat market a slight upward trend today during the early dealings. The fact that the Liverpool market apparently paid no heed to any likelihood of war, however, served to check advances here, and so, too, did opinions expressed that Europeans were without funds to pay for augmented supplies of foodstuffs. Demand was almost exclusively from shorts. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to ¼c higher with December 99⅝c@$1.00 and May $1.04⅝@1.04¾, was followed by a little upturn all around.

Subsequently a sharp additional upturn in prices took place with buying based on talk of active export business and on assertions that a rally was overdue, values having been on the downgrade for four consecutive days. The close was strong, 1⅝ to 2c net higher, December $1.01⅞@1.02, and May $1.06⅝@1.06¾.

CORN—Lack of selling pressure was a feature of the corn and oats trade. After opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, December 56⅛@56⅜c, the corn market continued to harden.

Houses with northwestern connections led the buying. The close was firm, ⅞ to 1⅛c net higher, December 57⅜c.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to ⅛c higher, December 34⅜c, and later scored trifling general gains.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were dull, but firm in line with hogs.

NEW CASH MARKET TO OPEN SATURDAY

Fresh in its gleaming whiteness, modern in its equipment and in its color scheme of black and white the Boston market, Lincoln's food department store, opens for business tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock at 1323 O street, with A. S. Sandlovich and John Sandlovich as proprietors. The seven departments, delicatessen meat, fruit and vegetables, fresh fish, dairy, bakery, and grocery, are served by thirty-one clerks, fifteen of them expert meat cutters.

The store room is 25 by 100 feet in size, with a white tiled floor and all shelves, counters, containers, and scales of white. The upper walls are are tiled and are outlined in black, creating a paneled effect. The black outline is also carried out in the store's fixtures, which were made in Lincoln by the Enterprise Planing mill. Frosted overhead lights are used for night illumination.

Extending along the left of the store is an 80-foot display meat counter and the refrigerating wall case, which is 36 feet long. The market has installed its own refrigerating plant. In addition to these cooling devices, the store is equipped with an ice box 16 by 18 feet in size. A long glass meat display case extends across the rear of the store. On the right side are the fresh vegetables occupying the space of the show windows, and the delicatessen bakery, and grocery department. At the rear of the store, on the balcony, is the proprietor's office, reached through the receiving room.

"High grade goods at popular prices," will be the policy of the store. This is made possible through the fact that the store will have no delivery system, the plan being to have a strictly cash and carry business.

On the opening day, every purchaser at the meat market, regardless of the amount of the sale, will be given a thirty cent box of Swift's Brookfield farm sausages.

REAL WORK DONE BY BOB M'GINNIS IN A ROUNDHOUSE

Erie and the Baltimore & Ohio roads. Conditions then began to improve.

"We were not fenced in, but pickets and guards were on duty all around the camp and there was no trouble with strikers, except when some of the workmen went up town. We worked in twelve-hour shifts, seven days a week, and as a rule we were ready to go to bed reasonably early. Good meals were served by the company, and while it was pretty darned hot we got along fairly well.

"H. L. Harvey, assistant superintendent of motive power and equipment, from Chicago headquarters was there all the time, working as an engine machinist. We had quite a bunch of 'white-collared officials' dressed in overalls and doing jobs of every sort.

"It was a strenuous time for us, but there wasn't a day during the whole period when we didn't have engines ready as they were needed to take out trains.

"The first week I thought I never could stand it, and my muscles got mighty sore. But a fellow never knows what he can go through until he has to tackle it. In three or four weeks I got hardened to the work and found myself able to go ahead without excessive fatigue.

"The general agent from Deadwood, S. D., who was firing a stationery boiler, came pretty near succumbing to the heat, and we shipped him home.

"All the engineers and firemen on trains west of the river treated me courteously in my role of strikebreaker, though they wouldn't do anything outside of their own regular duties."

Mr. McGinnis said that the settlement of the strike under which the old men are going back to work is regarded in railroad circles and accepted by the men themselves as a defeat for the unions.

"The men lost two and half months' time and gained nothing," he declared. "They are simply going back to work at the wages fixed by the railroad labor board, against which they struck. The skilled workmen who came in during the strike are at the head of the list, but there is plenty of work for all the old men who desire to come back.

"I look for the trouble to blow over in a short time, and the company will doubtless get better work out of its employes than it did before the strike."

Reports have reached London that the Turks have commenced reprisals against the Armenians at Smyrna.

Nears Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 15.—The Turkish nationalist army is now within thirty-five miles of Constantinople. The population is in a state of nervous tension and the entire city is rife with rumors about Mustapha Kemal Pasha's designs upon the capital.

Rodosto and other ports on the sea of Marmora are choked with refugees who are arriving by the tens of thousands in an appalling state of misery. Hundreds are dying before they can be landed.

At Heels of Greeks.

MUDANIA, Sept. 15.—The Greek cruisers Giorgos Averoff and Kilkos, the latter formerly the United States steamship Mississippi are at Panderma, covering the retreat of the remnant of the Greek army, for whose safety grave concern is felt. The Turks are at the heels of the fleeing Greeks, and it is believed the later are doomed unless the Greek government can provide vessels for their escape.

Two companies of French infantry were sent to this city from Constantinople for the temporary protection of thousands of Christian refugees here, many of whom, panic stricken, are throwing themselves into the sea.

When the Turks invaded the town, they notified the French commander that the presence of his troops would not be tolerated, but he stood his ground.

Americans Safe.

ATHENS, Sept. 15.—An American destroyer arrived yesterday at Piraeus from Smyrna with the American consul and several other American citizens and numerous Armenian refugees.

Fleet Has Instructions.

Children born on this date are true lovers and children of Nature. Never call their attention to the evil things of the world, or to the faults of their companions, as this is very apt to prove a contamination which will embitter the whole life.

The governing planet of this date is Mercury and the governing sign is Virgo.

People of this birthdate are prone to prophesy but as they reason from the objective and external, their prophesies are liable to fail. This admiration of Virgo people for externals, and the desire to make good appearance, leads some of the minto habits of exaggeration and falsehood, and frequently into debt from which extrication seems impossible.

How intelligent bathing benefits your complexion

Many people who are very careful about the soap they use for their faces and hands are much less considerate of their bodies.

This is a serious mistake.

The condition of the skin of the body not only has a direct effect upon the general health of the whole individual, but it has a specific relation to the condition of the complexion.

> The pores of the skin throw off surplus moisture and impurities. If you were to paint your body or cover it with metal foil so that all the pores ceased functioning, you would soon die.
>
> Failing to remove dirt and to rinse off thoroughly stops up some of the pores and dams up the impurities. These pores then often become inflamed and infected, and skin troubles on the face and other parts of the body may result.

Ivory for the bath makes a pure, rich lather instantly; dissolves the accumulations at the outlet of each pore, and then rinses off completely, leaving the skin perfectly clean and healthy.

For convenience and greater pleasure in the tub, Ivory Soap floats. No need to grope blindly about in soapy water—Ivory is always on top, inviting recapture.

If you wash your face while in the tub, as many people like to do, Ivory's presence again assures you of perfectly safe and gentle cleansing.

Having nothing to conceal, Ivory contains no strong perfume or dyes. It is delicately fragrant and has the creamy whiteness which is the natural color of the best quality of toilet soap. Bathing with Ivory is a safe, pleasant, convenient and exhilarating experience in cold, warm, or hot water.

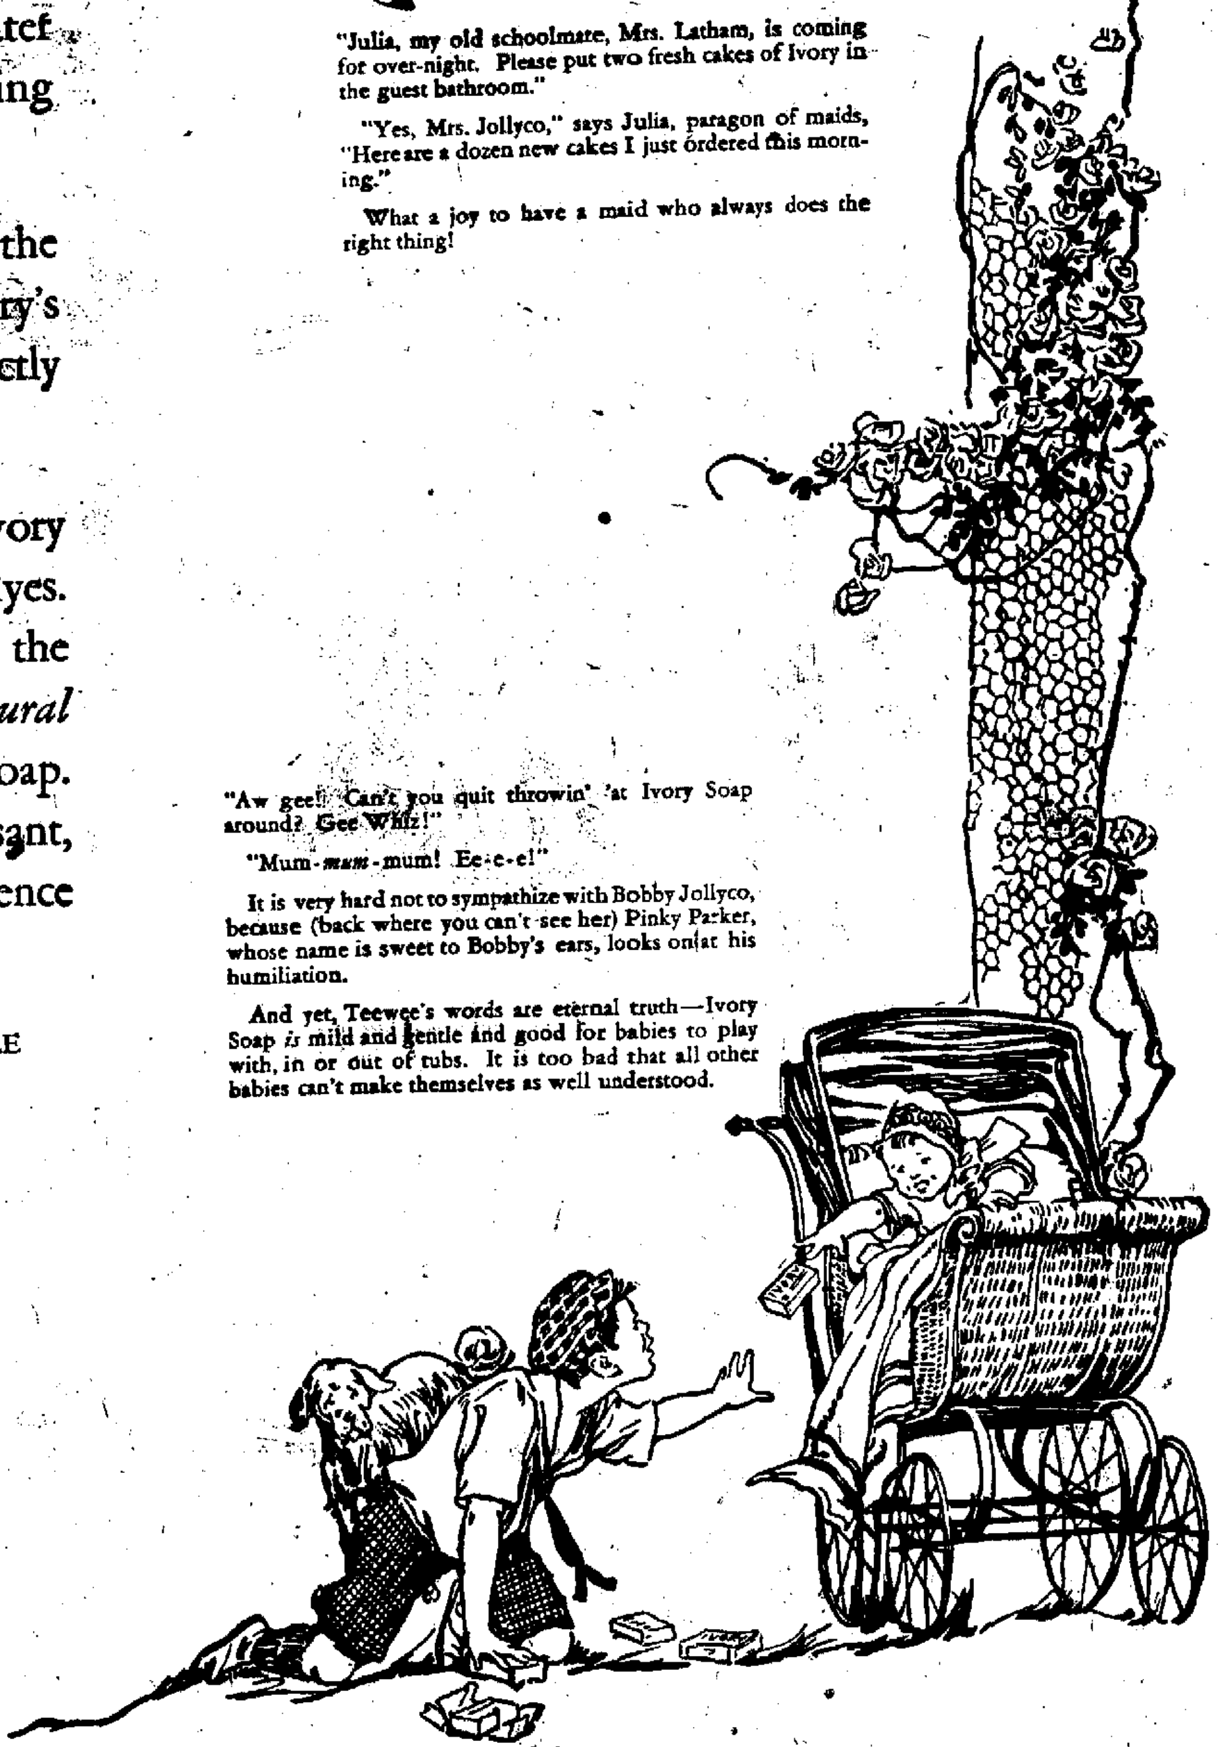
"Julia, my old schoolmate, Mrs. Latham, is coming for over-night. Please put two fresh cakes of Ivory in the guest bathroom."

"Yes, Mrs. Jollyco," says Julia, paragon of maids, "Here are a dozen new cakes I just ordered this morning."

What a joy to have a maid who always does the right thing!



"Aw gee! Can't you quit throwin' 'at Ivory Soap around? Gee Whiz!"

"Mum-mum-mum! Ee-e-e!"

It is very hard not to sympathize with Bobby Jollyco, because (back where you can't see her) Pinky Parker, whose name is sweet to Bobby's ears, looks on at his humiliation.

And yet, Teewee's words are eternal truth—Ivory Soap is mild and gentle and good for babies to play with, in or out of tubs. It is too bad that all other babies can't make themselves as well understood.

"What!" exclaims President Jollyco.

"Yes sir," says Miss Jump. "It's no wonder the girls can't keep their hands clean. I thought you'd like to know."

"Know! Of course I'd like to know! Call Mr. Jimpson . . . Jimpson, hang it, sir, why do you discriminate against the girls in this office? Why don't you provide Ivory Soap in their rest-room? . . . Well, throw that stuff away and get some Ivory. If I can have it, so can they. . . . How's that, Miss Jump?"

"Oh, thank you, Mr. Jollyco. We have such nice girls here. They all like Ivory."

A Flaked Soap which meets the important safety test

Before you trust your costly fine fabrics to any soap in any form, a doubt naturally comes up in your mind.

"Is this soap really safe?"

Ask yourself: "Would I be willing to use this soap on my face?"

A soap which is too strong for your face is naturally too strong for your delicate and costly garments.

Ivory Flakes is simply Ivory Soap in flake form. Of course it fully meets this important safety test.

For Ivory Soap, pure, mild, gentle, white—has protected the faces and hands of millions of women since 1879.

Ivory Flakes offers you a real margin of safety for cleansing the very finest garments you own.
